Coalition report finds

Block grant requests point to segregation

By EMORY DANIELS

If a cross-district busing plan is considered by the federal courts within the next year, it is likely to be because of an admission of guilt of de jure segregation by the suburban governmental units themselves.

It was announced Friday by the Coalition for Block Grant Compliance that there is evidence of de jure (deliberate) segregation relating to housing patterns on the part of many Detroit suburban communities — including Livonia, Southfield, Redford Township, Westland, Rochester and Garden City.

The Coalition discovered the possible evidence while analyzing block grant applications made by 26 suburbs. The major finding was that the applications "flagrantly underestimate or fail to estimate" housing needs of low-income persons who work but don't live in suburban communities, reports Clifford Schrupp of the Northwest Interfaith Center for Racial Justice.

These findings have been turned over to the legal staff of the NAACP and attorneys for the Detroit Board of Education. NAACP attorneys are considering introducing the evidence at a future point before U.S. Judge Robert DeMascio to argue that the existence of de jure segregation requires a cross-district busing solution to integrate Detroit School District, explained Joe Madison, executive director of the Detroit NAACP.

THE APPLICATIONS for federal funding under the Community Development Act (CDA) were submitted before March 1 by each suburb to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) for review.

While the applications were being processed by SEMCOG, Coalition volunteers handcopied each application which was then analyzed by full time Coalition staff persons.

Schrupp said the applications failed to plan adequately for meeting housing needs of non-elderly lower-income families. "Many communities appear to be failing to meet the housing needs of their own lower income non-elderly residents simply because they fear that some non-residents might also be included."

There is little evidence, he added, that communities are geared up to comply with the civil rights requirements of the Community Development Act.

Notification of these exclusions of low-income persons has been made by the Coalition to SEMCOG and the Michigan Civil Rights Commission. Within the next week to 10 days each of the 26 suburbs will be given specific comments about the application failures from the coalition.

"It is clear to us that in their present form these applications, taken together," stresses Schrupp, "constitute a systematic and pervasive pattern of official governmental action which will have the effect of discriminating against Blacks and members of other minority groups."

"If approved in their present form, the racial and economic divisions in the metropolitan area will be increased, significant housing needs of lower income persons will not be met."

45-15 delayed

By MIKE ARNHOLT

PLYMOUTH—The fate of the 45-15 year round school program, tentatively planned for Miller School this summer has met with another delay.

Meeting in a special Saturday morning session, the Plymouth school board set a special meeting for tomorrow (Tuesday) at 8 p.m. at the board offices to discuss the costs and other matters of implementation with Miller School principal, Shirley Spaniel.

The delay by the board, came after several board members noted their confusion over cost figures for implementing the program, tentatively set to begin in July of this year. Estimates by an administrative committee reached the $90,000 mark, in a report which was partially presented to the board by Supt. John M. Hoben.

Board vice president Marda Benson noted her concern that Mrs. Spaniel and other administrators were not present at the meeting. "I think it's unrealistic to discuss 45-15, when the people who know the most about the program are not here," Mrs. Benson said.

FOLLOWING further questions to the superintendent on the reasons for the increased costs for the 45-15 program, Trustee George Lawton moved that discussion be delayed until Mrs. Spaniel could be present.

"45-15 is quickly becoming a political issue," said trustee Gary Minto. "I've spoken to Mrs. Spaniel and she is less than enthusiastic about the program. I'm concerned about the effect that 45-15 will have on the upcoming millage election."

"The survey that was taken last year may no longer be valid and as a board member I don't know who the hell to believe."

A survey of residents in the Miller School area last year indicated a strong majority favored implementation of the 45-15 program. Set to begin in July of last year, the plans were scrapped, when teachers declined to begin the program without a new contract.

BUD THOMAS, a resident of the Miller School area, said he had petitions signed by 128 residents in the Miller area. According to Thomas, "only 30 signed petitions in favor of 45-15."

Hoben told residents and board members that alternatives to 45-15 would also cost money, including the possibility of putting in portable classrooms at the Miller site, or busing students to other schools.

Mrs. Benson urged the residents present to consider the 45-15 program on the basis of its impact throughout the district. "It's a great tendency to be extremely provincial and be concerned only with what happens at Miller. Please take the time to consider the effects on the program districtwide."

She said that if students could not be housed at Miller, other schools would be affected with the transfer of Miller students into their schools.

School board secretary Marcia Borowski explained to residents the board was attempting to "maintain the integrity of attendance areas" within the district.

ACCORDING to figures presented by Hoben in the 45-15 report, without the 45-15 program, Miller would handle 733 students in the fall. With 45-15 the school would be housing 865 students, an increase of 132.

The board also voted to begin planning for a survey of residents throughout the district on their opinions of the 45-15 program.

Noting time was running short for the planning of the program, if it is to be implemented, the board also will attempt to set a timetable for the program at its Tuesday night meeting. That meeting will be held in the board offices, 454 S. Harvey.

Plymouth Twp holds firm on refusal to share light costs

By RICHARD GOLD

CANTON—Another attempt to determine who will pay for the Joy Road bridge lights over I-275 met with failure Tuesday.

Members of the Plymouth and Canton Township Board of Trustees met jointly to see if Plymouth Township officials would consider footing a portion of the lighting costs, estimated currently at $14,000.

Speaking informally, members of the Plymouth Township Board told Canton officials they were not interested in paying for any of the lighting.

Plymouth Township Clerk Helen Richardson summarized the sentiment of the board when she said, "I think it's a state or county problem, it's certainly not ours and I don't even think it should be Canton's. None of our residents live near the bridge and the only people the lighting would affect would be people driving over the bridge. They could be from Superior Township or anywhere else."

She added, "I've driven across plenty of bridges in my time and personally I don't think they even need lights in the first place."

THE PROBLEM of the bridge light controversy has been ongoing for three years. Residents of the Holiday Park Subdivision, located just east of the bridge, complained that the bridge might cause traffic problems.

With the support of the Canton Township administration, they brought suit against the State Highway Department and the Wayne County Road Commission in the fall of 1973. They listed 13 complaints.

In December, Circuit Court Judge John J. O'Hair signed a consent judgment ordering that both Plymouth and Canton Townships pay for the lights because Joy Road bordered on both townships.

Canton Township Clerk John Flodin wrote Detroit Edison asking for a study on the lights. In November 1974 Edison responded that seven lights located on the east and west embankments of the bridge would do the job.

The cost of the electricity would be $189 a month. Several weeks later they informed Flodin that they would not install the lights. Cost of installation has since been estimated at $2,000 a light or $14,000 total.

Canton officials contacted Mrs. Richardson in December 1974 and asked if Plymouth Township would chip in on the cost of the lighting.

The Plymouth Township board indicated in January that they were not interested.

Following that decision, Canton Supervisor Robert Greenstein contacted township attorney William Sempliner. He informed Greenstein that legal precedent existed for forcing Plymouth Township to pay.

A joint meeting was then arranged between the township officials last Tuesday.

While Sempliner has stated that Plymouth Township can be legally forced to pay, the township's attorney, Don Morgan has indicated otherwise.

Says Mrs. Richardson, "Our lawyer

Airport costs study complete

CANTON—Residents of the Pickwick subdivision may have to marshal forces once again if the second half of the Mettetal Airport study is favorable to the township.

Township officials received the financial section of the airport study late last week and were not "conversant on the matter" at deadline time.

"We received the study a couple of days ago," said Supervisor Robert Greenstein, "but I haven't really had time to study it. I don't know right now if it will be conducive to purchasing the facility."

"We have scheduled the item for Tuesday's meeting (March 25), but all we'll do is introduce it and table it. Then we'll set up a public hearing so residents can voice their opinions on it."

AT THE MARCH 11 meeting of the township board, several Pickwick residents, (who would be most affected by an expansion of the airport) voiced deep concern about Mettetal.

Patrick Malone, speaking for the community goals committee of the Pickwick Village Association said,

SC tuition rates hold

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees voted 6-0 last Wednesday (March 19) to keep 1975-76 tuition rates at the current level, but gave itself the option of increasing tuition if the economic situation of the college changes.

In-district students presently pay $11 per credit hour while out-district students pay $22, and out-of-state students pay $33. The Schoolcraft district includes the Plymouth, Northville, Livonia, Westland and Garden City school districts.

Dr. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft president, told the board that based on all the facts and unknowns (executive appropriations) tuition should remain at the 1974-75 level.

"Revenues could shift, however, and in that case we're not absolutely bound by this certification," said Grote. "If the economic situation necessitates a change we can reconsider the current rates."

State law requires that each community college certify its tuition and fees for 1975-76 no later than April 15.

Tuition has not increased at Schoolcraft over the past three years. The tuition rate at other area community colleges including Henry Ford Community College (HFCC), Dearborn and Oakland Community College (OCC) is $10 for in-district students. No increase is being discussed at HFCC, while tuition may go to $12 for residents at OCC.

IN OTHER action, Grote announced 1974-75 commencement exercises will be held Sunday, April 27 at 2 p.m. in the physical education gym on the Schoolcraft campus.

Keynote speaker will be Sarah Power, a member of the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Mrs. Power, an Ann Arbor resident, was educated at Vassar College and New York University Graduate School of Politics and International Relations. In New York she served as executive director of the United States Nations-New York City Host Advisory Committee and executive director of New York City Commission for the United Nations.

She is married to Philip H. Power, chairman of the board of Suburban Communications Corp., and co-publisher of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

Schoolcraft will award more than 700 associate of arts and associate of applied science degrees, also certificates of completion in vocational areas and other two-year non-degree programs.

IN FURTHER action, trustees voted:

•To table further discussion of changing the board of trustees from eight to seven members until Trustee Arch Vallier is present. Vallier, vacationing in Florida, has not attended the last two board meetings. The item will be on the April 23 agenda.

•Granted sabbatical leaves to John Kyriacopoulos, English 1975-76 school year. Kyriacopoulos plans to spend the winter semester studying Greek and contemporary Greek poetry in Greece. Bloom will spend the fall and winter semesters studying for his doctorate of musical arts in choral conducting at the University of Iowa.

•Send Trustee Ron Cowden to the 1975 National Conference on Trusteeship in Washington DC. The weekend conference, April 20-22, is sponsored by the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges.

Students like IM program

By RICHARD GOLD

PLYMOUTH—"The kids run it and they love it," says East Middle School physical education teacher Dan Riggs explaining the middle schools' intramural program.

The intramural program has been in existence for years, but for the time, teams from each of the four middle school in the community will compete with one another.

Comments Riggs, "What's nice about the inter-school competition is that it provides recognition and an alternate program for kids who wouldn't normally participate in the interscholastic sports."

The intramural program is designed as a supplement to the half year of physical education provided children at the middle school level. It is for boys and girls who are not interested in joining the school teams or for sixth graders who are not allowed to by law.

While Riggs and Mrs. Janet Lawson oversee the intramurals at East, it is the students who organize the teams from their homerooms, choose which sports to enter, officiate, and keep all the records and statistics.

"We have had more than 95 per cent participation here and I understand the other middle schools are running at better than 80 per cent," says Riggs, "and that's good because it really gives a kid a chance to be good at something."

Adds the teacher, "A nice feature of the program is that we are able to introduce the students to more sports. We don't duplicate what we offer in class. If we have softball in gym class during the spring, then we have another sport for the intramural participants. It gives us more of a chance to specialize in our classes.

"For instance, Janet is offering archery this year in her class. If we didn't have the intramurals, she probably wouldn't have been able to."

While teams participate in football, basketball, swimming, track and field and baseball for boys; and track and field, swimming, volleyball and softball for girls, the number of sports available to intramural participants is far greater. They can choose from a myriad of events, including chess, European handball, and wrestling. Fourteen individual and team sports are offered in the intramural program.

THE FIRST intramural inter-school championship for eighth graders was held on March 12 and both the girls' and boys' teams from East defeated Pioneer Middle School entries in the finals of floor hockey. According to Riggs, the sixth and seventh grade teams will play sometime after Easter.

The intramural games are currently played during lunch at East (half of the 45 minutes is devoted to eating and the other half to playing), but Riggs hopes to see the program expand in the future to after school games and night games for the finals.

He adds, "I think the kids would get a real kick out of playing under the lights, and if the crowd at the hockey finals is any indication, I'm sure the parents would like to see their kids out there."

Bicentennial group begins joint effort

An areawide bicentennial commission took its first steps off the ground last week, as representatives from the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township and the Plymouth Community School District met for the first time to discuss 1976 celebration projects.

According to Elizabeth Folger, acting chairperson of the City of Plymouth's bicentennial commission, the committee will serve as an advisory board to local commissions and help stimulate areawide interest in the bicentennial.

The areawide bicentennial concept was first launched by Plymouth City Commissioner Norbert Battermann, who maintained that many bicentennial projects concern the entire Plymouth-Canton area, at a recent intergovernmental council meeting.

At their organizational meeting last week, representatives of the commission endorsed one project, proposed by the city's bicentennial commission, and started the wheels turning for the areawide concept.

COMMUNITY commission members agreed to ask their governmental units for a $200 contribution to cover the commission's administrative costs and appointed a committee, chaired by Brian Kidston, to draft the commission's bylaws.

In addition, the group agreed to create an Advisory Bicentennial Board, composed of area organizations wishing to contribute to the 1976 celebration. The first advisory board meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, May 21.

"The board will promote and stimulate interest in the bicentennial on a wider basis than local groups can do," Mrs. Folger explained. "The purpose is to stimulate as much local interest as possible. The bicentennial is going to be a people's celebration."

To keep the public informed of community bicentennial plans and invite its participation, the group appointed R. T. Thompson, managing editor of the Plymouth-Canton editions of the Observer & Eccentric, and John Foley, III, co-publisher of the Community Crier, as ex-officio members.

ALTHOUGH the group will have no funding authority, Mrs. Folger said the areawide commission will direct groups in applying for state or federal bicentennial funds and channel local contributions to area projects.

The first project endorsed by the commission will outfit the Plymouth Fire and Drum Corps in 1776 uniforms and equipment, patterned after the Washington Guard Corps of the Revolutionary era. The corps is applying for a $3,750 state grant. Mrs. Folger said, to match the $3,750 it hopes to raise.

According to Mrs. Folger, the commission hopes to gain official "state fire and drum corps" status for the 50 member marching group.

For state funding purposes, the commission will consider endorsement of a 30 to 45-minute videotape. "A Plymouth-Canton Bicentennial Salute," at its next meeting.

THE PLYMOUTH branch of the American Association of University Women plans to produce the film in conjunction with Plymouth Salem High School's communication students. Featuring past and present community activities, the tape will be shown at the Dunning-Hough Library during the 1975 Fall Festival.

Commission members also encouraged publication of a community history, written by Sam Hudson, author of the "Plymouth Past and Present" columns in the Observer & Eccentric.

Also discussed were plans of the Plymouth Community Arts Council to commission a sculpture, commemorating the bicentennial.

Meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the school district's administration building.

Segregation seen in grant requests and many suburban communities will continue to use federal dollars to maintain their racial and economic exclusiveness."

JOE GUGGENHEIM, a member of the Coalition and executive director of the Michigan Committee on Law and Housing headquartered in Detroit, says it is hoped the suburbs will voluntarily amend their applications to comply with the law.

Under a timetable established by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), which administers CDA grants, suburbs have until April 15 to amend their applications.

Guggenheim says the Coalition hopes each suburb will voluntarily amend its application to comply with the intent of the law. "But if these applications are not revised to comply with the requirements of the CDA we will have no alternative but to insist that HUD, and ultimately the federal courts, block the distribution of these federal funds."

MADISON of the NAACP commented: "The implication of the U.S. Supreme Court busing decision is that if equal opportunity laws had been followed to begin with, you may not have had a cross-district case."

"One of the major causes of segregation of the school system is housing patterns," he continued. "and the Supreme Court has left the back door open for us to prove that housing patterns in the metropolitan area is a cause of segregated schools."

Madison continued that housing patterns reflect "primarily racism and segregation on the basis of class. There are many poor whites also being discriminated against."

"I'd rather see open housing laws enforced and so we will give the suburbs the opportunity to revise their applications. Our attorneys have the Coalition's report and will determine if we can enter a case after the Detroit-only busing plan is resolved."

The findings of the Coalition may prove at a later point there may be de jure segregation by the suburbs, Madison said.

son continued, and might be used in an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court against a Detroit-only plan.

"Frankly, I think the Coalition's findings show that governments at all levels have been remiss in enforcing the open housing laws."

Guggenheim and Schrupp stressed the Coalition's interest is that the law be complied with and that suburbs indeed will provide housing for low-income persons who work in the suburb but live elsewhere.

Although the NAACP is a member of the Coalition, as of a month ago, it is interested in the findings to support an argument de jure segregation exists. "We are not prepared to state whether our findings will help the NAACP attorneys," said Guggenheim, "That is not our main concern."

A SUMMARY of evidence in CDA applications that result in discrimination against Blacks and other minorities, prepared by the Coalition, include that:

About half of the 26 suburbs failed to measure "persons expected to reside in the community because they work there," or had no provision to survey the housing needs of those expected to reside;

Almost all didn't measure "persons expected to reside for minority workers," didn't propose any housing to meet needs of those expected to reside, and in their statement of needs failed to consider special needs of minority workers in their community;

About one-third inappropriately measured persons expected to reside, and two-thirds planned housing for senior citizens while ignoring large numbers of non-elderly minority persons. The federal guidelines define "persons expected to reside," explains Guggenheim, as those now working in the city but not living there.

THE POSSIBILITY the suburbs might once again be made part of the busing lawsuit was forecasted earlier by L. Graham Ward of Livonia, a former assistant attorney general who was a participant in the busing (Bradley vs. Milliken).

Ward is now a practicing attorney in Redford Township and an assistant professor of Eastern Michigan University.

The state argued that the U.S. Constitution imposes no duty on school officials to overcome racially imbalanced housing patterns through the administration of school district attendance and feeder patterns, Graham comments.

cities can do for an individual.

Traver, now approaching his 26th birthday, is sold on the community college concept. But it wasn't always that way. In fact, he dropped out of Wayne Memorial High School to join the Army after the ninth grade.

"I really didn't care much about school and decided to enlist," the stocky, dark-haired Traver says. "But when I came out of service in 1969, Richard Burlingame, one of my counselors, advised me to attend night school and finish high school. I was working in a small shop at the time and realized my future was limited. It took me four nights a week to make it but it was worth every minute of it."

After receiving his high school diploma in 1971, he set his sights on becoming a lawyer and is pursuing that goal in Wayne Community College.

"I'll have 60 credit hours at the end of this summer for my associates degree, the equivalent of two years of college."

The aspiring lawyer drove a truck 12 hours a day during the summer besides taking 12 credit hours of college.

"My wife, Jan, and my two boys, Daryl, 5, and Derek, 3, have given me a lot help."

"I'd recommend community college to anyone. In fact, I talked 12 of my buddies into attending WC3, Taylor Kennedy Center," Traver says fervently.

"Every teacher I've had has been great, especially Mike Delehanty, our sociology teacher."

"He's Mr. Contemporary," chimes in classmate Judith Wolters, 33, a 1959 Wayne Memorial graduate and a secretary at Ford Motor Company.

"Delehanty can really communicate," says Mrs. Wolters, who concedes she returned to school to get out of a rut.

"You get in that 9-to-5 everyday pattern and you need to get on the outside to find out what's happening. College has been great for me and I've recommended it to all my friends, but they all think it'll be a drag."

Her husband, Royal, also is employed by Ford Motor Company, and he happily watches Kenneth, 7, and Kristen, 4, while his wife attends night college.

These are just some of the happy students who John Harrison, assistant director of Continuing Education and Community School Programs, delights in.

There are many remarkable people among the 400 students at John Glenn Center of WC3," says Harrison.

HARRISON, who oversees the community college program at Glenn, for Wayne-Westland schools, cites five main reasons why he feels persons should attend Wayne Community College.

"There is a branch within 15 minutes of anyone in Wayne County. We have an open door policy, which means anyone can attend even without a high school diploma. Credits are transferrable. It's only $11 per credit hour (as compared to three times that elsewhere) and the teaching is excellent."

"We have superior, quality instruction," Harrison stresses. "The vast majority of our teachers have masters degrees, an what's even more important, they have the ability to communicate."

"I'm just thrilled with people like Ed Traver -- and to think that Wayne-Westland School system provided for his high school education at night as well as now providing college for his further training."

"Just imagine, from a high school drop-out just a short time ago to studying to become a lawyer. That's great and others can do it, too," Harrison says.

has advised us that it is not our responsibility. We can't be named in the suit since we weren't party to it. We were not even advised of the suit in the first place and then we weren't asked to join in the study of the problem after the suit. We really haven't had our day in court so to speak."

Flodin commented, "We could sue them I suppose, it's one possibility we'll have to discuss. They seem to feel that since we have five mills and they only have one they shouldn't have to pay. We will ask for another study from Edison, to see if we can't light the bridge for less money. We are also investigating the legal possibilities as far as having the federal government pay for the lights. They funded the bridge. It might be their obligation to light it."

He added, "If we do pay for the lighting it could be an awfully bad precedent for us. We might be obliged to light all the bridges across the township--and believe me there are plenty of them."

The clerk said, "Let's just say that we are making haste slowly, we don't want to obligate ourselves too soon."

Board hears school site arguments

By DARLENE STINSON
Financial questions are blurring the site of a new elementary school in the Plymouth Community School District, as alternative site and access road dollar signs compete for the school, proposed for the Windsor Park Subdivision.

The estimated $25,000 to $100,000 additional-cost issue will face school board members at tonight's (Monday) meeting. The answer will determine the fate of the Windsor Park school site near Sheldon and Joy and a temporary access road, required by the Wayne County Road Commission for site plan approval.

School and Canton Township officials met with concerned residents and representatives from the Wayne County Road Commission and Drain Commissioner's Office Wednesday night to discuss the access road and a possible alternative site for the elementary school, one of three scheduled for a September 1976 opening.

THE SCHOOL board's decision will ultimately hinge on the cost of an alternative site and the cost of an access road. But, if cost figures estimated at last week's meeting are correct, the decision will not be difficult.

Larry Morris, a representative of the architectural firm designing the school, estimated a $100,000 additional cost for moving the school to another site.

About $5,000 already has been poured into the Windsor Park site in surveying and soil testing fees, Morris said. Another site would require additional surveying, soil testing and architectural engineering as well as a two-month delay in construction work.

"There would be a penalty for that delay," Morris maintained. "How much I really don't know. But, in our opinion, the construction market has seen its bottom. At this point, I would think you might experience about a two per cent escalation in construction costs for a two-month delay."

Estimated costs of a temporary access road, which would divert construction traffic from two residential streets, Fleet and Arlington, in the Windsor Park Subdivision, are hazier.

GLEN ROBERTS, a representative of Canton Township's engineering consultants, estimated cost of the temporary road and bridge, which would span Tonquish Creek, at $20,000 to $25,000.

According to School Supt. John M. Hoben, the school district's estimate is pegged at $50,000 to $80,000.

"I CAN UNDERSTAND the residents' concerns," said Mrs. Borowski. "But since I honestly don't believe we have the funds to build an access road, I'd like to know if these people (Canton Township and Windsor Park residents) would like to chip in."

To that, Greenstein retorted, to a round of applause. "The township does not have the funds. I want to remind the school board in the gentlest of terms that you forget you represent the people, and they fund all the things you want to do."

"It seems to me that when you have a $25,000 expenditure, any consideration not to build that access road or the school should warrant the harshest of criticisms. The suggestion I just heard is preposterous. I urge you to get off this thing and find the money."

School Board Trustee Carl Berry added, "I have to take a sympathetic opinion to what Mrs. Borowski said. But I do believe the access road is the direct responsibility of the school district because of the safety factor, and because the only people using it would be building the school."

THE ESTIMATED cost of the three elementary schools has risen since the bond issue to build them was approved, Mrs. Borowski said. The access road would subtract from equipment funds.

But, as Morris pointed out, the state of the economy could generate lower construction bids than estimated.

Wayne County Commissioner Royce Smith was present at last week's meeting and urged school board members to approve the temporary access road.

"I actually don't think we're even talking $20,000," Smith said. "I don't think these people are unreasonable in asking for it."

Deputy School Supt. Earl Hogan said school board members will consider last week's discussion in making their decision.

'74 gas shortage caused commuter serendipity

BY SHERRY KAHAN

For a small group of residents of Plymouth and Livonia, last year's gasoline shortage was not all bad. It launched them into unaccustomed roles as bus commuters to their jobs at the Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn.

Today, while the number of daily commuters has dropped from 78 to 25, bus transportation is still a viable way for these Ford employees to reach their jobs.

Lack of fuel early last year caused Bart Quello of Plymouth to amass about 150 signatures of Ford employees, who thought they might be interested in an alternative method of commuting.

He took the names to the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA), which early in March, 1974 obliged the residents of Livonia and Plymouth with a commuter run. The service is called Direct Access Shuttle (DASH).

The bus originated at the Ford plant near Sheldon and Five Mile, Plymouth, and then traveled express to Wonderland Shopping Center, Livonia. At the west end of the center it picked up commuters and sped off for Dearborn by way of Plymouth and Evergreen roads and the Southfield expressway.

When the system began, four buses made the trip in the morning, three from Plymouth and one from Livonia. SEMTA records of ridership indicate that on March 7, 1974, 32 morning commuters took the first bus, 13 took the Livonia bus, 23 took the third bus and 10, the fourth.

DASH dropped its riders off at the Ford Division building, the engineering buildings, at scientific research, body engineering, the design center and the Engine and Electrical Engineering buildings.

By summer, however, the love affair between Ford employees and public transportation cooled considerably. Gas became more available, although expensive.

Responding to their new ridership figures, SEMTA reduced the rolling stock by half in August. By October, it limited DASH to one bus for the hard-core riders who remained faithful.

"OUR BUSES are not the most comfortable in the world," said Quello, a products development engineer in the Mustang-Pinto department. "But SEMTA tells us new ones are coming, maybe the ones with the latest recliner seats and air conditioning."

"That would be a grand way to go." For him, commuting is working out well. "I think the majority of other riders would say they like it," he said. "You don't have to worry about wear and tear on the car, and it gives you a good chance to catch up on your reading."

Quello is a bus captain, selected by SEMTA as the person to transmit passenger suggestions and problems to the authority. According to Linda Zenger, passenger representative at SEMTA, the bus captains on DASH's various lines are effective.

"They're the reason it really works," she said.

Quello added: "I wouldn't handle this if I didn't think it is a fine way to go to work and relax on the way. It will make my car live longer. I enjoy the comradeship on the bus. We all kid around a little."

LIVONIAN Bill Sellars agrees with him.

"I like commuting very much," he said. "It is very relaxing, and you don't have to fight the weather. It gives you a chance to unwind on the way home from work."

Like Quello, Sellars also gets some reading done. DASH allows him to leave his two cars for his wife and teen-age daughters, who need them to commute to jobs.

"We have a friendly group—by now I know most of the people who ride," he added. "The service has been good. We've only had a couple of delays. I think the bus makes as good time as we would driving."

The bus leaves Plymouth at 6:55 a.m., and Livonia at 7:17 a.m. Its first stop in Dearborn is at 7:49 a.m. In the evening it departs the Ford complex at 4:35 p.m., arriving at Wonderland at 5:12 p.m., and in Plymouth at 5:37.

A Plymouth commuter pays $34.10 for a monthly roundtrip ticket. A Livonian pays $28.60.

Suburbs asked to revise housing applications

Twenty-six suburbs in the metropolitan Detroit area will be notified within 10 days they stand to lose federal Community Development Act (CDA) funding unless they comply with civil rights requirements by April 15.

The Coalition for Black Grant Compliance, headquartered in Detroit, has analyzed applications from 26 suburbs for CDA money and announced they were in flagrant violation of the act.

The suburbs have, under guidelines of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), until April 15 to revise applications.

THE COALITION has already notified HUD, the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, and Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) that immediate corrective actions are needed from the 26 suburbs — which include Livonia, Westland, Redford, Southfield, Rochester, and Garden City.

If the suburbs don't revise their applications by April 15, the coalition reports it will insist that HUD, and ultimately the federal courts, block distribution of CDA funds.

The charge of systematic and pervasive housing discrimination patterns was made by the coalition

Friday after completing an analysis of the 26 applications submitted before March 1 to SEMCOG.

"This analysis indicates that little or no housing has been proposed to meet the needs of non-resident workers 'expected to reside' in these municipalities, and that the types of housing proposed in most cases are types of housing that are not likely to be available to minority group families," states Clifford Schrupp of the Northwest Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice and a coalition leader.

Joe Guggenheim, another coalition leader and executive director of the Michigan Committee on Law and Housing, explained congress assumes persons working in the community should be "expected to reside" in that city at some point in the future.

The 26 suburban applications asked for a total of about 2,700 housing units. Of the total, 1,970 units were to house senior citizens; 360 units were of owner-occupied housing to be rehabilitated for present occupants, and 368 units were rental housing for the non-elderly.

Of the 368 units of rental housing, 322 would be existing housing that's up to code and would likely be occupied by residents. Only 46 units would be either rehabilitated housing or newly constructed housing for non-elderly families.

The 322 units of vacant existing housing would be made available through municipal housing commissions, says Schrupp, and will most likely be occupied by present residents.

LIVONIA is entitled to a first-year grant of $266,000 and has 41 black residents, the coalition's analysis reported.

Census data and information from the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) indicate Livonia has a need to provide 255 units for the elderly. It is planning 150 units. The same sources indicate Livonia has a need for 497 units for the non-elderly. But with a 497-unit need, the city has planned for only 38 units.

WESTLAND is entitled to a $276,000 grant the first year and has a black population of 2,234 persons.

Data indicates Westland has a need for 317 senior citizen units and plans to provide 300, and a need for 1,940 non-elderly units and plans to provide for 358.

GARDEN CITY in the first year would receive $208,000 and its population includes 10 blacks.

The data shows Garden City has a need to provide 130 units for senior citizens, yet it is planning to build 190. It has a need for 342 units for the non-elderly and plans to build "0" units.

REDFORD TOWNSHIP would receive $202,000 the first year and has 17 blacks.

Data indicates Redford has a need for 841 units for its elderly and is planning 10 units, and a need for 777 units for the non-elderly and is attempting 10 units. All would be financed through HUD.

THE COALITION points out that the congressional intent in adopting the CDA was:

"The committee wishes to emphasize that the bill requires communities, in assessing their housing needs, to look beyond the needs of their residents to those who can be expected to reside in the community as well. Clearly, those already employed in the community can be expected to reside there."

You can save on your income taxes by starting your own retirement plan now.

Your DETROIT BANK-er has information and a FREE brochure about new legislation that makes it possible for you to start your own retirement plan by opening an Individual Retirement Account at Detroit Bank & Trust.

You can save on your income taxes and start saving for retirement at the same time. Here's how the plan works:

You're eligible for an I.R.A. if you're not currently participating in a retirement plan. Any employed or self-employed person who is not currently covered by any other retirement plan is eligible to open an Individual Retirement Account (I.R.A.). If you are already covered, but have a working spouse who is not, he or she is eligible.

A tax-shelter makes your money worth more now . . . and when you retire. All contributions to your I.R.A., up to 15% of your earned income (maximum of $1,500 annually), are fully deductible.

Likewise, interest earned on your I.R.A. is exempt from income tax until it is withdrawn. When you finally do begin making withdrawals from your I.R.A., you are taxable only on the amount drawn out each year. And when you retire your effective rate of taxation will probably be lower.

If you invest $1,500 (before taxes) at the beginning of each year, here's what you could accumulate.

At the end of	With the help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A.	Without the help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A.
5 years	$ 8,861	$ 6,376
10 years	20,506	14,213
15 years	35,808	23,845
20 years	55,914	35,683
25 years	82,335	50,232
30 years	117,054	68,112

(Table assumes taxpayer is in a 25% tax bracket and all figures are based on a 5 1/2% investment return.)

If you make withdrawals before you reach age 59 1/2, unless you become permanently disabled, you must pay penalties on the amount withdrawn. Withdrawals must begin before you reach age 70 1/2. Your Detroit Bank & Trust I.R.A. will be kept current with all present and future requirements of the Internal Revenue Service.

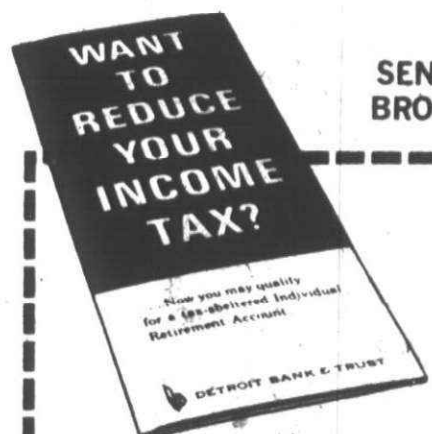

Make deposits as often as you like—up to $1,500 annually.

Regulations permit you to contribute a maximum of $1,500 each year, or 15% of annual wages, whichever is less. College parking rules get teeth

Anyone parking his or her car on the Schoolcraft College campus better heed posted parking areas and other traffic regulations, or run the risk of receiving a ticket.

Because of increasing parking problems the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees voted unanimously March 19 to authorize college security officers to issue citations under existing Livonia city ordinances. The program is being administered under an agreement between the City of Livonia and the board of trustees.

Under the new procedure, tickets will be payable in 16th District Court, Five Mile and Farmington roads, Livonia. The policy will go into effect Monday, April 7.

UNDER Livonia Ordinance 1130, campus security officers also may tow and impound vehicles that are parked in fire lanes and other marked towing zones. Cars will be taken to the Livonia pound on Levan, north of Schoolcraft.

The board also voted 5-1 to approve a second resolution to take care of outstanding tickets. Under the plan, all outstanding tickets will be summarized and notice of violations will be sent to each person. An individual will have 10 college working days in which to file an appeal with the SC traffic appeals board.

The appeals board is composed of three students, one faculty member, one administrator, a member of the office staff, and a chairperson, who presently is a student. The appeals board will schedule hearings.

THE COLLEGE will now be able to collect fines either voluntarily or at the time when an employee leaves Schoolcraft. Student violations, if not paid voluntarily, will be collected before graduation or any subsequent registration. The college will withhold a student's transcript of records until outstanding tickets are paid.

Trustee Rosina Raymond voted against the second resolution, saying the procedure should be postponed to allow more feedback.

Richard Arlen, president of the Schoolcraft Faculty Forum, said the faculty will file a grievance against the board because it was not given a chance to discuss the parking question. Arlen said working conditions are a part of the teacher's contract and should be negotiated.

"If a grievance is filed, so what," replied Trustee Gerald Cox. "This has been discussed thoroughly at open meetings." (The matter was discussed at a regular board meeting Feb. 26).

IN OTHER related matters the board voted 6-0 to dissolve the Citizen's Advisory Committee—Career Needs of Women.

Dr. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft president, pointed out that since the 23-member committee was formed in 1971 many members have moved out of the district. "Lifestyles have changed and there are people who no longer are interested or have the time to serve on this committee."

Grote added the administration will immediately appoint a new committee to work in cooperation with the college Women's Resource Center. The new committee will include former members who want to serve and other interested persons.

"The new committee will continue to expand and develop specialized programs and services for all women in the community," Grote said.

A motion was made by Cheske and supported by Schwall and unanimously carried that section 4.24 of the Zoning Ordinance relating to signs be introduced and published:

Section 4.24 Signs

a) Signs General

1. Measurement of Area of Sign

The entire area within a circle, triangle or parallelogram enclosing the extreme limits of writing, representation, emblem, or any figure of similar character, together with any frame or other material or color forming an integral part of the display or used to differentiate such sign from the background against which it is placed; excluding necessary supports or uprights on which sign is placed but including any sign tower.

Where a sign has two or more faces, the area of all faces shall be included in determining the area of the sign, except that which two such faces are placed back to back and are at no point more than two (2) feet from one another the area of the sign shall be taken as the area of one face if the two faces are of equal area, or as the area of the larger face if the two faces are of unequal area.

2. Permit Required.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, it shall be unlawful for any person to erect, alter, relocate or maintain within the Township of Canton any sign or advertising structure, without first obtaining a permit from the Township Building Inspector. A sign not expressly permitted by Section 4.24, is prohibited.

(i) The Township Building Inspector shall provide application forms and may require of the applicant such information and descriptive material, plans or drawings so as to determine compliance with this and other applicable ordinances of Canton Township.

(ii) A permit fee shall be paid to the Township of Canton at the time the permit is applied for, according to a fee schedule adopted by the Township Board.

(iii) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the normal servicing, changing of an existing sign, message, or to the cleaning of a sign, the changing of advertising on a sign specifically designated for periodic change of message without a change in structure such as a billboard, bulletin board of similar type of sign.

(iiii) Any sign that is moved to another location either on the same or to another premises, shall be considered a new sign and a permit shall be required for any work performed in connection therewith when required by this Ordinance.

(v) As an additional condition precedent to obtaining a permit the contractor, at his expense, shall provide and keep in force during the entire year, comprehensive general liability insurance in the minimum limits of liability insurance to bodily injury of one hundred thousand dollars for each person and three hundred thousand dollars for each occurrence; and in respect to property damage, fifty thousand dollars for each accident. Said policy of insurance shall be conditioned to hold the Township of Canton harmless of every damage of whatsoever nature, whether to persons or property, for which the Township may be held liable by reason of, or which is occasioned, by the doing of an act or the exercise of the privilege for which the permit was granted.

(vi) Abandoned Signs.

(a) Deposit at time of application. The applicant shall deposit with the Township cash, as established by the Township Board the amount of which shall be sufficient to cover the cost of removing a temporary sign.

(b) The deposit will be retained by the Township throughout the life of the temporary sign and will be returned to the owner as soon as possible after the sign has been completely removed from the premises at the owner's expense.

(c) If the business or activity to which the sign pertains appears to be abandoned, the Township Building Inspector or Ordinance Officer shall exercise all reasonable means at his disposal to determine whether abandonment actually has occurred. If, after completion of his investigation, he determines that the business or activity has been abandoned for a period of ninety (90) days or more, the deposit will be considered forfeited and the Township will undertake to remove and dispose of the sign.

3. Material Requirements.

Materials of construction for signs and sign structures shall be of quality and grade as specified by the Canton Township Building Code.

(a) Underground Wiring: Where illumination is desired, underground wiring shall be required for all signs not attached to a building.

(b) Hours of illumination: External signs may not be illuminated between the hours of 11:00 P.M. and 7:00 A.M. except those pertaining to a business open during these hours.

(c) Illumination of signs shall be directed or shaded so as not to interfere with the vision of persons on the adjacent highways or adjacent properties. Such determination shall be made by the Building Department.

4. Nonconforming Signs.

(i) It is the intent of this section to recognize that the eventual elimination as expeditiously as is reasonable, of existing signs that are not in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance, is as much a subject of health, safety and welfare as is the prohibition of new signs that would violate the provisions of this Ordinance. It is also the intent of this Section that any elimination of nonconforming signs shall be effected so as to avoid any unreasonable invasion of established private property rights.

(ii) No nonconforming Signs:

(a) Shall be changed to another nonconforming sign;

(b) Shall have any changes made in the words or symbols used or the message displayed on the sign unless the sign is designed for periodic change of message;

(c) Shall be structurally altered so as to prolong the life of the sign or so as to change the shape, size, type or design of the sign;

(d) Shall have the face or faces changed when such sign is not of a type of construction to permit such a complete change of face;

(e) Shall be re-established after the activity, business or usage to which it relates has been discontinued for ninety (90) days or longer; and

(f) Shall be re-established after damage of destruction if the estimated expense of reconstruction exceeds fifty (50%) percent of the appraised replacement cost as determined by the Administrator.

(c) Freestanding Ground Signs:

Signs pertaining to a real estate development designed to promote the sale of lots or buildings within a subdivision located within the Township, may be permitted on a temporary basis in any use district, but shall be located upon such land that is part of the subdivision or property being advertised for sale and shall be subject to the requirements and conditions of all applicable codes and ordinances of the Township, as approved by the Building Inspector, and a temporary permit issued. Such non-accessory signs shall not exceed one hundred and twenty (120) square feet in size nor an overall height of twelve (12) feet. Placement shall comply with the building setback requirements. A sign indicating a model dwelling unit's name may be permitted within the front yard setback provided the sign does not exceed two (2) square feet. Residential real estate subdivisions may be allowed two (2) directional signs within the Township by the Board of Zoning Appeals provided such signs are no larger than twenty (20) square feet and are located in such a manner as not to create a traffic hazard are not injurious to the surrounding neighborhood and are not contrary with the spirit and purpose of this Ordinance.

Setback Requirements:

All ground signs shall be setback, ¾ off the distance required for building setback. A one hundred ($100.00) dollar deposit for each temporary sign to insure proper maintenance and removal shall be made to the Township to be reimbursed, minus administrative and inspection fee, as established by the Township Board, upon removal of this temporary sign.

Add Section 4.31. Site Plan Review. For the purposes of this Ordinance, a site plan shall be defined as a map or drawing of the entire lot or parcel of land upon which building or structure is to be constructed.

a) Procedures. Fifteen (15) copies of the site plan shall be submitted by the proprietor to the Township. At a regular Planning Commission meeting these copies shall be distributed to the Township Fire Chief, Engineer, and Planner. At a subsequent regular Planning Commission meeting, written reports regarding the site plan shall be submitted for review by the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission shall review the plans and make a recommendation to the Township Board. The proprietor shall then submit ten (10) copies of the site plan to the Township Clerk and be placed on the Township Board agenda. At a meeting of the Township Board, the plans shall be reviewed and approved or disapproved. If approved by the Township Board, the proprietor can submit construction plans to the Building Inspector for a permit to build.

b) Implementation.

An approved site plan shall be immediately transmitted to the Building Department and all non-building requirements of such site plan shall be installed prior to the issuance of a certificate of occupancy unless otherwise specifically approved by the Township Board, and shall, thereafter, be maintained with materials of equal or greater quality as the materials originally installed.

c) Limitation.

Whenever the Township Board approves a site plan, such approval shall continue to be valid for a period of one (1) year only from the date of such action by the Board. If the applicant does not obtain a building permit and commence construction within one (1) year period or be granted a time extension by the Board such site plan approval shall be deemed void at the expiration of said period. The one (1) year limitation shall become effective on all site plans at the time of adoption of this amendment. This does not, however, exempt all site plans approved prior to this Amendment from meeting new site plan review standards or other Zoning Ordinance changes adopted by the Township Board.

d) Conditional Right.

Approval of the site plan under Section 4.31 by the Township Board shall confer upon the proprietor for a period of one (1) year from the date of approval, the conditional right that the terms and conditions of the Zoning Ordinance under which approval was granted will not be changed.

e) Review Considerations:

In the process of reviewing the site plan, the following will be considered:

1. Is the proposed use or uses in harmony with the purposes of the Zoning District and is the general public health, safety and welfare protected?

2. Does traffic circulation assure:

a) Safety and convenience of both vehicular and pedestrian traffic both within the site and in relation to access streets?

b) Satisfactory and harmonious relations between the development on the site and existing and prospective development.

3. Are public utilities adequate to serve the development?

4. Is storm drainage adequate to ensure that adjacent properties are protected from undue storm water runoff?

5. Are landscaping, fencing, and setback areas sufficient to adequately buffer adjacent properties from possible detrimental environmental and nuisance hazards?

All landscape treatment of the site, including the labeling of all materials as to type and size, when installed, shall be provided.

6. Are the requirements of this Ordinance and other applicable Township Ordinances, site planning standards and development guidelines adequately met?

Change Section 8.04. Site plan review to read: Site plan approval shall be required as indicated in Section 4.31.

Sec. 301 Requirement of Grading Permit: Except as exempted by Article V of this Ordinance, no person shall make any earth change which is connected with any land use activities which disturb a parcel an acre or more in area or if the earth change is within 500 feet of a watercourse unless he has a grading permit issued by the Building Inspector.

Sec. 302 Permit Application: A separate application shall be required for each grading permit. A grading plan, specifications and schedules shall be submitted with each application for a grading permit. The plans shall be prepared or approved and signed by a professional engineer or architect. The Building Inspector may waive the preparation or approval and signature by the professional engineer or architect when the work entails little hazard to the adjacent property and does not include the placement of fill upon which a structure may be erected.

Application Data Required: The grading plans and specifications accompanying the grading permit application shall contain the following data:

- narrative summary of the plan or project.
- A vicinity sketch at the scale of 1"=200' indicating the site location as well as the adjacent properties within 250' of the site boundaries.
- A boundary line survey of the site on which the work is to be performed.
- A legal description of the site.

XIV. Other information or data as may be required by the Building Inspector.

Sec. 303 Fees: At the time of filing an application for a grading permit, a plan checking fee shall be paid to the Township, non-refundable and at a rate of ten ($10.00) dollars per acre of site area involved with a fifty ($50.00) dollar minimum.

Sec. 304 Bond Requirements: A grading permit shall not be issued for grading involving the movement of more than 1,000 cubic yards of soil unless the permittee shall first post with the Township a bond executed by the owner and a Corporate Surety with authority to do business in this State as a surety.

The bond shall be in a form approved by the Township Attorney and in the amount of the estimated total cost of the work authorized by the permit. The Township may waive all or part of the amount to the extent that it is determined that the hazard or danger created by the work does not justify the full amount.

The total amount of bond requirements shall be determined by the Building Inspector. In lieu of a surety bond the applicant may file with the Township a cash bond or an instrument of credit approved by the Township Attorney in the amount equal to that which would be required for the surety bond.

Every Bond and instrument of credit shall include and every cash deposit shall be made on the conditions that the permittee shall comply with all of the provisions of this Ordinance with all of the terms and conditions of the grading permit to the satisfaction of the Building Inspector and shall complete all of the work contemplated under the grading permit within the time limits specified in the grading permit, or if no time limit is so specified, within 100 days after the date of the issuance of the grading permit. Cancellation of the Bond will require a certification by the Building Inspector that the work has been satisfactorily completed.

Sec. 305 Extension of Time. If the permittee is unable to complete the work within the specified time he may, prior to the expiration of the permit, present in writing to the Building Inspector a request for an extension of time setting forth the reasons for the requested extension. If in the opinion of the Building Inspector, such an extension is warranted, he may grant additional time for the completion of the work.

Sec. 306 Failure to Complete Work. In the event of failure to complete the work or failure to comply with all the requirements, conditions and terms of the permit, the Building Inspector may order such work as in his opinion, is necessary to eliminate any dangerous conditions and to leave the site in a safe condition or he may order the work authorized by the permit to be completed to a safe condition to his satisfaction. The permittee and the surety executing the bond or person issuing the instrument of credit or making the cash deposit shall continue to be firmly bound under a continuing obligation for the payment of all necessary costs and expenses that may be incurred or expended by the Township in causing any and all such work to be done. In the case of a cash deposit, any person unused portion thereof shall be refunded to the permittee.

Sec. 307 Denial of Permit: Grading permits shall not be issued where:

- the proposed grading would cause hazards to the public safety and welfare or;
- the work as proposed by the applicant will damage any public or private property or interfere with any existing drainage course in such a manner as to cause damage to any adjacent property or result in the deposition of debris or sediment on any public way or into any waterway or create an unreasonable hazard to persons or property; or
- the land area for which grading is proposed is subject to geological hazard to the extent that no reasonable amount or corrective work can eliminate or sufficiently reduce settlement, slope instability or any other such hazard to persons or property; or
- the land area for which the grading is proposed may lie within the fifty (50) year flood plain of any stream or watercourse which may or may not be specifically designated and delineated by the Township as an area subject to flood hazards unless a hydrologic report, prepared by a Professional Engineer is submitted to certify that the proposed grading will have, no detrimental influence on the public welfare or on the total development of the watershed.

Sec. 308 Modification of Approved Plans: All modifications of the approved grading plans must be submitted to and approved by the Building Inspector. All necessary sustaining reports shall be submitted with any proposal to modify the approved grading plan. No grading work in connection with any proposed modification shall be permitted without the approval of the Building Inspector.

Sec. 309 Responsibility of Permittee: During grading operations the permittee shall be responsible for:

- The prevention of damage to any public utilities or services within the limits of grading and along any routes of travel of the equipment.

- Carrying out the proposed work in accordance with the approved plans and in compliance with all the requirements of the permit and this Ordinance.
- The prompt removal of all soils, miscellaneous debris or other materials spilled, dumped or otherwise deposited on public streets, highways, sidewalks or other public thoroughfares during transit to and from the construction where such spillage constitutes a public nuisance or hazard.

Sec. 310 Maintenance Requirements:

Persons carrying out soil erosion and sediment control measures under this Ordinance, and all subsequent owners of property concerning which such measures have been taken, shall maintain all permanent anti-erosion devices, retaining walls, structures, plantings, and other protective devices.

The field operations of these agencies are subject to inspection by the Township Building Inspector for compliance with the Township Land Development Regulations.

ARTICLE VI. INSPECTION AND ENFORCEMENT

Sec. 601 Authority of the Building Inspector: The requirements of this Section shall be enforced by the Building Inspector. The Building Inspector shall inspect the work and shall require adequate inspection of compaction by a soil engineer or by a soil testing agency, approved by the Building Inspector unless he determines that such inspection requirements may be waived due to the non-hazardous nature of the grading. If the Building Inspector finds any existing conditions not as stated in any application, grading permit or approved plan, he may refuse to approve further work until approval of a revised grading plan which will conform to the existing conditions.

Sec. 602 Right of Access for Inspection: The Township Building Inspector may enter at all reasonable times in or upon any private or public property for the purpose of inspecting and investigating conditions or practices which may be in violation of this Ordinance.

'Haute cuisine' cook cuts calories, time

By MARGARET MILLER

What comes to mind when someone uses the term "haute cuisine?" The French chef's ultimate in cooking skill?

The best of ingredients, the most complicated of recipes, the most subtle of flavors?

Rich food and a lot of it, served in many courses?

Hours and hours in the kitchen?

Right on some counts, says Paris-born Madeleine Kamman, who not only cooks in the manner French but teaches how to do it and writes about it.

But not necessarily right on all of them in these days of calorie-counting and faster-paced living, she emphasized in a recent visit to Redford Township.

TO PROVE HER POINT, she prepared an elegant gourmet meal in an hour and a half before a crowd that gathered in the Kitchen Glamor store on Grand River.

But she brought a lot of her secret with her—cooking stocks in covered bottles for the lamb and scallops courses she prepared.

"This is 'la cuisine nouvelle,'" said Mrs. Kamman. "You do the food that is just as beautiful, but you do not spend so much time."

"All you need is stock, and all that you need to make fine stock is to boil water. But the quality of food is absolutely not to be compared when you do."

MRS. KAMMAN, who heads Modern Gourmet, an elite cooking school in Boston, and has authored several books on French cooking, chose for her demonstration three recipes from her yet-to-be-published book, "When Women Cook."

She prepared Selle D'agneau comme a dol de Bretagne (crown roast of lamb), along with Coquilles St. Jacques Normande a l'ancienne (a dish of scallops) and Fraises Printemps, an elegant combination of strawberries and cream.

With these, in a gourmet meal served these days in France, would be a salad course and a cheese tray, Mrs. Kamman said. She didn't include these in her demonstration in the interest of simplification.

Serving both meat and fish courses in an elegant dinner—"that's the French way," this cook said. "Portions are very small, and very rich, and they go with two vegetables," she added.

She also said the strawberry dessert indicates the more modern trend to lighter meals.

"This is cream, very lightly-flavored with pistachio, with strawberries piled on top flavored with a raspberry puree. The French now are eating more of the fruits for dessert—not so many of the rich cakes and eclairs."

THE NEW BOOK on women's cooking in France, Mrs. Kamman said, grows out of her belief that "too much is said about the great chefs of France—not enough about their mothers and grandmothers who have been doing this simple cooking for many generations."

"The recipes I give in this book," she added, "are from the women in my own family. Not that they have written down these recipes, but I have learned from them a great deal that I know about cooking, and I can remember how a dish tastes and then write down the recipe."

The recipes in her heritage, Mrs. Kamman said, come from all over France, Normandy, Brittany, Touraine, Alsace, Savoie.

TWO EARLIER BOOKS, "The Making of a Cook" and "Dinner against the clock," bear out this cook's philosophy about her art.

"Some people are born cooks," she said. "They look at a refrigerator and start to prepare a meal. They know how to use what they have available."

"For others, the art must be taught, and it can be taught so they can prepare the food as beautiful as the one who is a born cook."

"In my school, I concentrate a great deal on techniques, and then on basic proportions. When you are thoroughly grounded in these, you can cook well without recipes. Although I would like people to buy my books, I really want my students to cook without them."

A BIRMINGHAM COOK who has studied under Mrs. Kamman both in Boston and in France seconded her description of her training.

"She really concentrates on techniques and she has taught me an amazing amount," said Mrs. Geri Rinschler, who helped make arrangements for Mrs. Kamman's visit to Kitchen Glamor.

"And she cooks by far the best food I ever have eaten."

Mrs. Rinschler teaches a cuisine workshop of her own in the Pembroke School in Birmingham under the district's adult education program.

"This kind of cooking really is an art, and Madeleine is the finest artist I know."

Consider new approach in selecting table wine

By CRAIG REYNOLDS

Almost all wines go with almost all foods.

Now that the basic rule of reds with red meats and whites with poultry and fish has been thrown out and everyone is again awash in the hundreds upon hundreds of available wines, perhaps a more meaningful standard for the selection of table wine can be developed.

Table wine must first be differentiated from beverages served apart from a meal. Aperitifs and after-dinner drinks generally stand on their own with hardy, distinct and sometimes dominant characters. Just as a rambunctious guest may disrupt a gathering, so a sherry or a port or any cordial can drown even a robust meal.

This differentiation leaves just a few hundred wines to confuse the casual entertainer.

GREAT ENTERTAINING demands a budget to match; a memorable meal with superior wine easily runs to $15 a person at home, or astronomical cost at a restaurant. On some occasions the expenditure is warranted, but most of the time, and particularly in these times, simplicity is the usual policy.

THIS pares the list of choices to a couple hundred wines commonly available in this area, and the fun begins.

There are two types of people: Those who usually prefer red wines and those who tend to whites. The reasons behind these preferences are as obscure as a winetasters' debate. It's simply a fact of life to be lived with, like height and complexion.

The fact also makes the choice of table wine easier. Reds and whites are both serviceable with most dishes. Proselytizing for the other color can be done at a more convenient time, with a more convincing argument dressed in a more commanding, and incidentally, more expensive label.

ACCOMMODATION supplies the key word for casual wine selection. The stuff in the bottle is not meant to be the main course, unless something is very much wrong with the cook or, indeed, with those seated at table.

To enhance rather than complement the meal, choosing wine which supports and assists the dominant food is suggested. If a dinner consists of several courses with several wines, then the standard progression from easy-going appetizers to substantial main course capped by fulfilling dessert should be followed.

In any case, a wine can be selected for wholehearted agreement with the central character of the food. Describe the dish and you've described the wine. Light or rich, delicate, mellow or robust apply to the plate as well as the label.

It would be a disservice to suggest outright a few labels at the expense of neglecting hundreds of others. Half the joy in discovering good wines is exploring the myriad of tastes harvested, pressed and fermented in the great vineyards throughout the world. The other half comes by introducing friends to these discoveries.

SEVERAL METHODS of orderly exploration exist. One might concentrate for a time on wines of a specific region, as a few weeks with Bordeaux, then on to Tuscany, a stay with Portugal and a leap to California.

At this point, sacrilege could be advised for those who prefer keeping at home and within means.

California as well as New York produces a large number of very good wines with unvarying consistency. While New York's vines are indigenous to the continent, providing distinctively American wines like Catawba, the grapes of the California wines grow from European stalks grafted to American roots.

A quick and cheap introduction to general descriptions of wines is at hand in domestic bottles.

ARMED WITH some vocabulary, the consumer can step into any of this area's wine shops and search out a trustworthy clerk as guide to the adventure of foreign wines.

Trustworthiness shows in a merchant who expresses his own preferences but can lead the buyer to specific labels which will satisfy a specifically described taste. After all, a good salesman wishes to please the customer in order to get more business.

Fast introductions to large selections of wine can be made through tasting parties, occasionally sponsored by large stores or by several universities.

In any case, a notebook is in order to record reactions and preferences. This becomes a handy reference for future shopping.

AS ENJOYMENT, consumption and knowledge increase, one can ultimately embark on new adventures: The building of a personal wine cellar and perhaps the serving of a great dinner.

Whatever direction is chosen, be it Chateau Latour 1959 with chateaubriand or Paisano 1975 with spaghetti, only two things need be kept in mind, your palate and your pocketbook.

Bon appetit.

We're proud of Plymouth Rock cagers

Plymouth's case of "basketball fever" came to an abrupt end in the semifinals of the state Class A basketball tournament, but it will be a long time before residents of the Plymouth community will forget the events of 1975.

Our team went all the way to become one of the last four quintets in Michigan competing for the state championship. That was the best showing ever for a basketball team from Plymouth.

For that, every member of the squad and Coach Fred Thomann deserve recognition from the entire community. There's something about a state tourney that creates what is known as "March Madness." It's something every basketball fan in the state contracts, and before the end of the annual tourney communities have been known to get some enthused residents to forget everything but the team.

That's the way it was in Plymouth. Everyone was talking about the Rocks and their chances of winning the title. Woe betide the ones that were a bit pessimistic; they were just about "silenced" for the time being.

With that kind of feeling, then it's a small wonder that the team rose to its greatest heights. It was perhaps at its best in the regional finals against Detroit Denby and in the quarterfinals against Pontiac Central.

Then came the big test in the semifinals at East Lansing. New surroundings, a different kind of a crowd, not surrounded by the multitude of Plymouth rooters and the pressure that goes with the semifinals.

The Rocks didn't quite have enough then, but they'll always be recalled by those who followed them this year.

They had plenty of intestinal fortitude as they showed in the game against favored Denby. They had plenty of the stuff that makes the difference between an ordinary team with great material and a great team with the same talent.

Plymouth should be proud of this team. It should arrange a testimonial dinner to show its appreciation.

Even in defeat it was a great outfit. The names

editorial opinion

of Dan Moore, Tim Dillon, Brian Wolcott, Howard Inch, Bill DenHouter, Jim Ellinghausen and Eric Agardy will long linger in the minds of fans, and their feats will be recorded for history in the school records.

We doff out topper to a great, scrappy squad coached by a brilliant mastermind. There just isn't enough praise for this team.... the greatest in Plymouth history.

The Stroller Biggie's big moment

By W. W. EDGAR

While the sports world is mourning the passing of Biggie Munn, former athletic director at Michigan State University, his death has unleashed a myriad of stories of his climb from a farm boy in Minnesota to All-America honors in 1931 and a coveted place in the athletic world as an administrator.

Up and down the sports trail they are retelling the story of his aggressiveness as a football player with the Golden Gophers that earned him a place in the national football Hall of Fame both as a player and a coach.

They're telling of his deeds as a coach, his parting of the ways with Fritz Crisler with whom he served as an assistant at the University of Michigan, and how he lifted Michigan

State from the status of a "cow college" to one of the nation's top powers.

BUT THE ONE The Stroller likes best is the heart warming tale that came from Biggie himself, and, strangely, it didn't concern football.

Sitting in his office on the Spartan campus one morning the conversation turned to big moments in sports and The Stroller asked, "Biggie, what was your greatest moment?"

With a broad smile he answered, "You may not believe this, but my greatest thrill came in track—the day in 1931 when I won the shot put in the Penn Relays and bettered the mark of Michigan's Ralph Rose that had been on the books for years."

This deserved a bit of explaining and Biggie quickly unfolded a tale that would have warmed the heart of even the most cynical.

Calmly, he told of how he had been selected to represent Minnesota in the Penn Relays—that, in those days, were considered the top event in track.

"I was the only entry from our school," he said, "and I was sent to Philadelphia alone. I was given my fare and a ticket for residence. It was a big moment in my life."

Biggie's grin widened as he recalled that, for the occasion, he had purchased a camel hair top coat (so he wouldn't look like a farmer).

"I WENT OUT to Franklin Field early," he went on, "and being without a sweat suit I wore my new top coat to walk around and keep warm."

"I had taken my warm-up tosses and put the coat on again to await my turn for the official throw."

"Finally, it came my turn. But when the iron ball came back to me it was mud-covered and a horrible looking sight. Mind you, there was no trainer with me, no attendant to wipe off the ball or anyone to even speak with me."

"For a few seconds I didn't know exactly what to do," Biggie related, "then I made a drastic decision. I picked up the mud-covered iron ball and wiped it clean with my new camel hair top coat. I figured I was sent to the relays, not to look fancy and dress in style, but to put the shot for my school."

"I was almost in tears when my name was called as I thought of that coat. Right then I decided the loss of the coat would be a cheap price to pay for victory, so, I let go with all the power I had."

It is history now that he not only won the event, but removed one of the oldest records from the books, and was hailed as a conquering hero when he returned to the Gopher campus.

"That was the greatest thrill of my life," he confided, "There have been many more since then—but none to equal that big moment I enjoyed at the Penn Relays even though I almost ruined the coat of which I was so proud."

These are just a few of the tales they'll be telling.

Praises Canton board

Editor:

In response to the letters published as of late negating the present administration in Canton:

As a resident for many years, I have observed the time wasted at township meetings and witnessed the lack of direction in growth which was carried on by the former administration. However, I am now confident and hopeful that under the impeccable and astute leadership of Robert Greenstein, Canton Township will finally become a township with leadership and direction.

The purpose being to become an esthetic and pleasant place in which to live. The aim being to encompass an atmosphere of prosperity and enhancement for all residents of this township.

I had doubts this would ever have happened under the former administration. I have no doubts this will definitely take place under the conscientious motivation of the present administration.

In a few brief months the present board has shown exceptional ability in making far reaching and positive decisions regarding the maturing of a large urban area such as Canton.

The men on the township board who ran with Mr. Greenstein are some of the finest and capable men in township politics. With their sensitive and uncompromising forthrightness, Canton will become an area envied by other townships.

Mr. Greenstein has brought a great deal to township government, especially that which was desperately lacking and that is, class. Canton Township has a promising future at last, thanks to the new administration.

Appreciate rescue squad

Editor:

We would like to express our appreciation to the Canton Township Fire Department for their very fast and helpful service. On Sunday evening, Feb. 23, we called the fire department for the rescue squad. They were at our home in less than three minutes to take my father to the hospital because of a heart attack.

Philip Dailey and Harry Harrison were the two firemen that were quick and efficient, and we want to thank them for their help. We really appreciated what you did.

Greetings. Calculating Calvin's my name, and facts and figures are my game.

Triple-A has commissioned me to show what a great value a Triple-A membership is. I've been doing just that right out there on the firing line where the true value of a Triple-A membership is really put to a test.

Perhaps you've seen me on television? I've been up to my neck in mud, flipped into the wall on a Murphy bed and lost out in the

I've discovered so many reasons why you should join Triple-A that I'm starting a special column called "Calculating Calvin's Corner" to tell you about them all.

'Eggsactly' right for the season

By SHERRY KAHAN

Eggs, like people, can be decked out at Easter time, and Mrs. Fred Kraft might be called the Christian Dior of the egg set.

"It isn't all that complicated," she told members of the Suburban West Valparaiso University Guild, which sponsored a recent demonstration in Hosanna-Tabor Lutheran Church in Redford Township.

Guild members were not so sure about that. The elaborately-decorated eggs set out by Mrs. Kraft, a resident of Dearborn.

"In early Christian times, eggs were dyed red at Easter time and exchanged as gifts," she said. "Each of you can express your own personality and decorating skills to make someone an Easter gift that could become a family heirloom."

WHILE USING MAINLY chicken eggs, Mrs. Kraft has also produced works of art from the eggs of quail, ostriches, ducks, turkeys and pheasants.

From these she has made vases, jewel cases, Christmas tree ornaments and various decorative pieces. Under her patient fingers, not only are the fragile egg shells cut, but they are also fitted with lids or doors that open with hinges.

Tools for the Kraft craft include long-nosed pliers, manicuring scissors, sewing scissors, wire clippers, tweezers with a point that will grip rhinestones, pearls and other jewels, and a single-edged razorblade.

TO START her students out simply, Mrs. Kraft showed them how to begin a simple vase.

"Start by poking a hole repeatedly in the same place at the side of the egg with manicure scissors," she said. "As soon as you can get the whole blade in, begin to snip small pieces in an ever widening circle until you have made the size hole you want."

"Leave the lining or membrane of the egg inside. That gives strength to the eggshell. Empty out the egg and wash and dry the shell thoroughly. It can be used in a day or so. Or it can be stored for later use. I've stored some for as long as six or seven years.

MRS. KRAFT then selected a piece of braid from her workbox and pasted it along the edge she had just cut. "Use a lot of glue to fasten it down," she stressed. "An acetate based clear glue is best."

Again she turned to her large workbox, and bringing forth a row of pearls, which, after first applying more glue, she placed below the circle of braid.

"Try to put the place where the various rows of material meet in different places," she said. "The joint is less noticeable that way. Also make sure your first row of braid is on straight. Otherwise all succeeding rows will look crooked."

A velvet ribbon can be placed around the widest part of the egg because it will lie flat at that spot, Mrs. Kraft recommends a fabric velvet rather than an imitation or plastic kind.

After a row or two more of braid and pearly, Mrs. Kraft stops decorating. She wants to leave a portion of the egg showing.

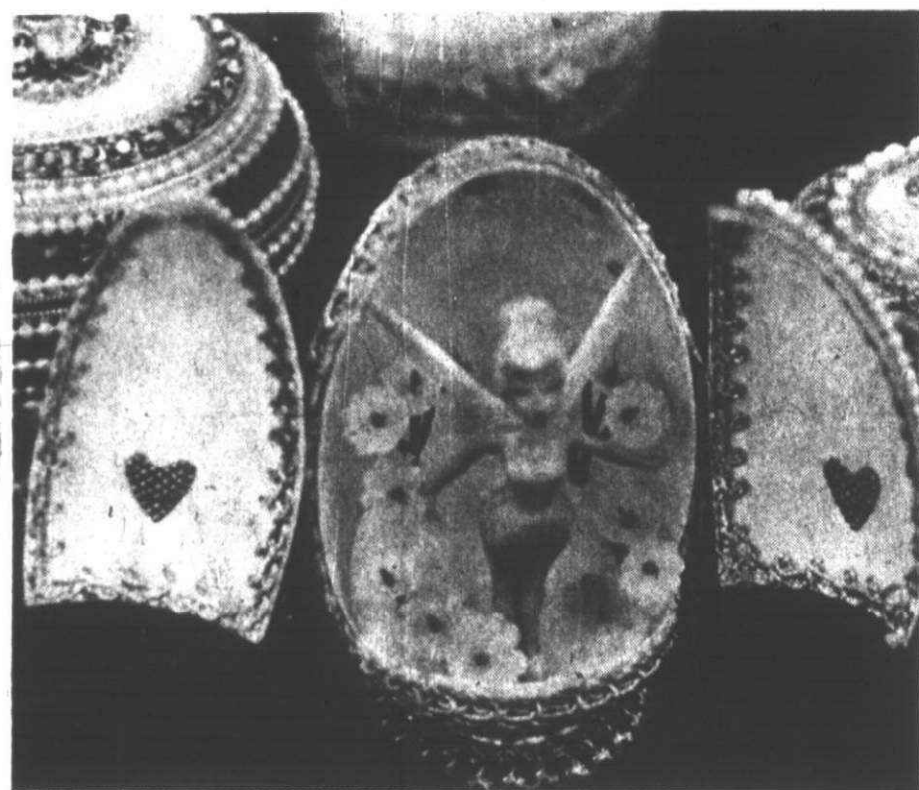

Bases for the new egg-vase can be made from jewelry found in hobby shops. "Or use four large pearls glued to the bottom, like feet," she suggested.

A razor blade is used on the more complicated task of cutting into doors or tops that will open, she added.

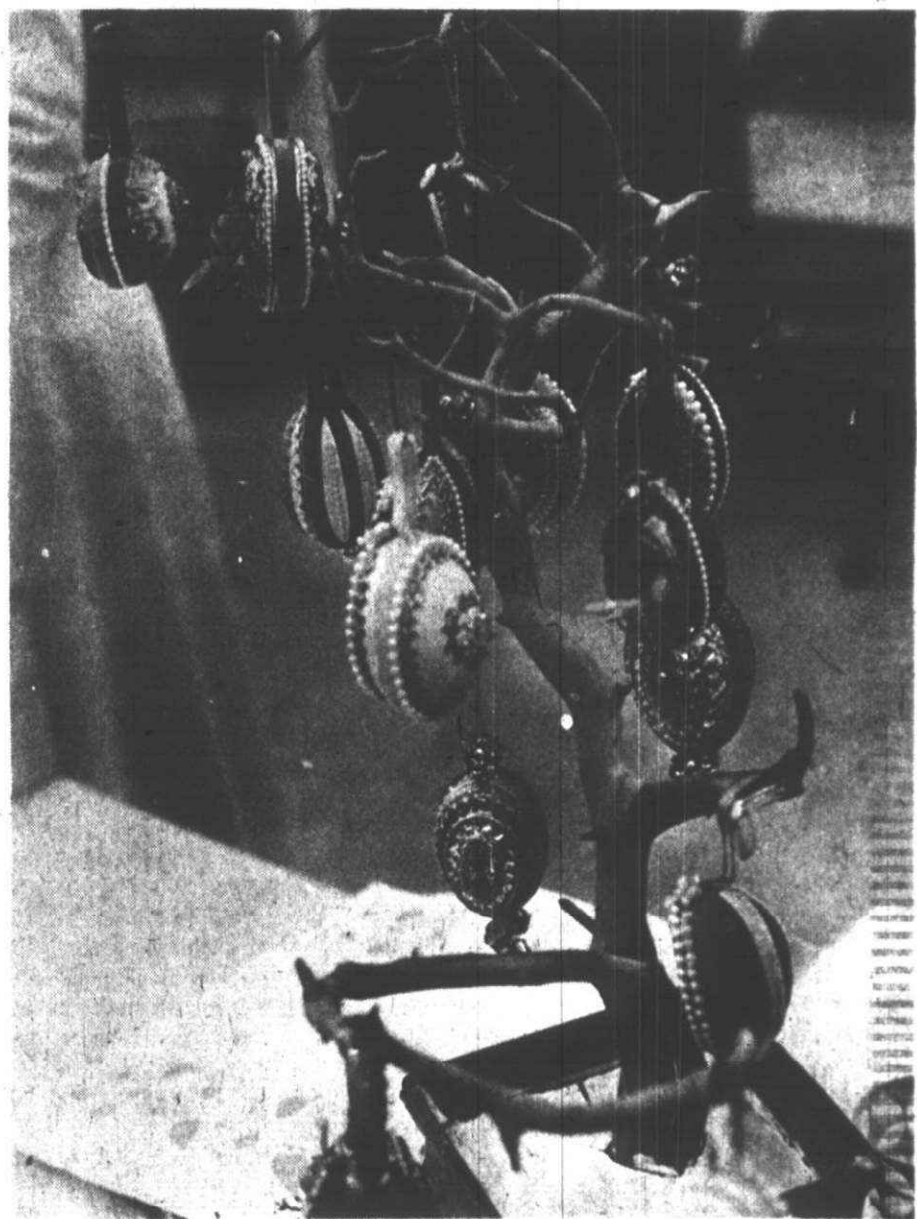

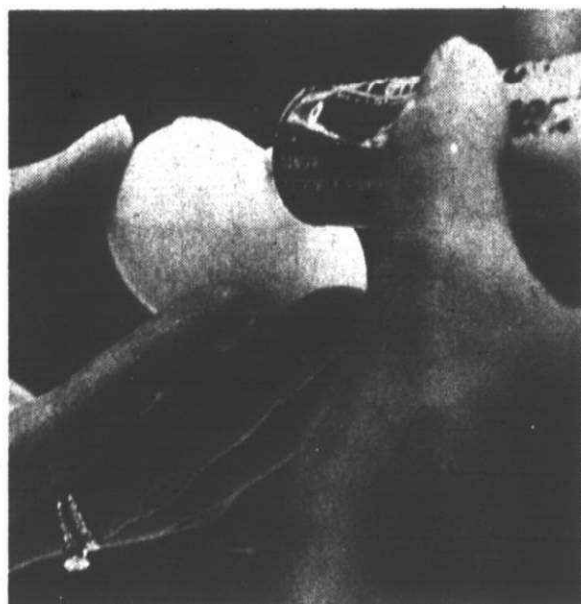

MRS. KRAFT TOOK UP eggery 16 years ago, long before it had a name or became the thriving business it is today.

"Many materials for decorating eggs in this way can be obtained from hobby stores nowadays," she said. "When my aunt first taught me, we used to hunt rummage sales for jewelry, fabrics, braid and interesting bits and pieces."

"The hunt was part of the hobby. I never throw anything away."

Theater should be subsidized, speaker says

By MARGARET MILLER

What theater in America needs, in the opinion of long-time observer Joe Calloway, is a national company and subsidization.

"We don't expect libraries and art museums to be self-supporting," Calloway told a Northville Town Hall audience in the Madonna College auditorium recently, "so why should theater art have to depend on commercial popularity?"

Secretaries plan dinner

Gale Buchanan, Schoolcraft College audio-visual librarian who recently visited Nepal, will describe her experiences following a March 25 dinner meeting of the Town and Country Chapter of the National Secretaries Association.

The event will take place in Cordoba's, 29703 Seven Mile, Livonia. Social hour starts at 6:15 p.m. and dinner will follow at 7 p.m.

Reservations for members and guests may be made through Mrs. Mae Andrews, Sugar Springs, 17348 W. 12 Mile, Southfield.

Calloway, who brought into his talk commentary on current Broadway offerings and a number of dramatic excerpts, said a national, federally-funded theater shouldn't be limited to New York.

"Cities like Detroit should have companies putting new acting talent into new plays," Calloway added.

LACK OF SOCIAL commentary also came in for the speaker's criticism.

"My major complaint about the current selection on Broadway," he said, "is that they do not speak to the major concerns of our country and the world."

"They indicate that as a people we seem to prefer distraction instead of meeting our problems head-on."

But this season's Broadway offerings Calloway termed "the best in six seasons."

"You hear talk about Broadway being dead," he said. "Broadway has been rather ill, but I see some good signs of recovery."

PROBABLY THE LEADING figure on the Great White Way at this time, he said, is Joe Papp, producer of the revival of Ibsen's "A Doll's House" in the Lincoln Center.

"Liv Ullmann gives a brilliant performance in this play that was written long ago but definitely talks about women's lib," Calloway said.

"It is this kind of production that should show people Papp is changing from his earlier tendency to be too avant-garde in his management of the Lincoln Center."

He gave a vote of approval to the many revivals now being staged, and said he would consider "a good revival better than a bad new show." He particularly mentioned the current production of Noel Coward's "Private Lives," and said it's "more popular than ever—the champagne hasn't lost its bubbles."

AN IN-THE-ROUND production of Candide, set to Leonard Bernstein's music, led Calloway to comment that "Bernstein's score is his most brilliant, but you get a crick in your neck watching the actors climb over you."

"They keep having members of the audience hold their props too," he added. "My feeling is that if I'm going to participate I would like to be paid for it."

Calloway appraisals of other Broadway offerings included:

EQUUS—The best new play in New York this season—a painless modern tragedy.

SEASCAPE—Edward Albee's play stars Deborah Kerr and Barry Nelson and two lizards had all the best lines.

SHERLOCK HOLMES—Lavish and absolutely tremendous.

THE MAGIC SHOW—Parents should enjoy it as much as the kids.

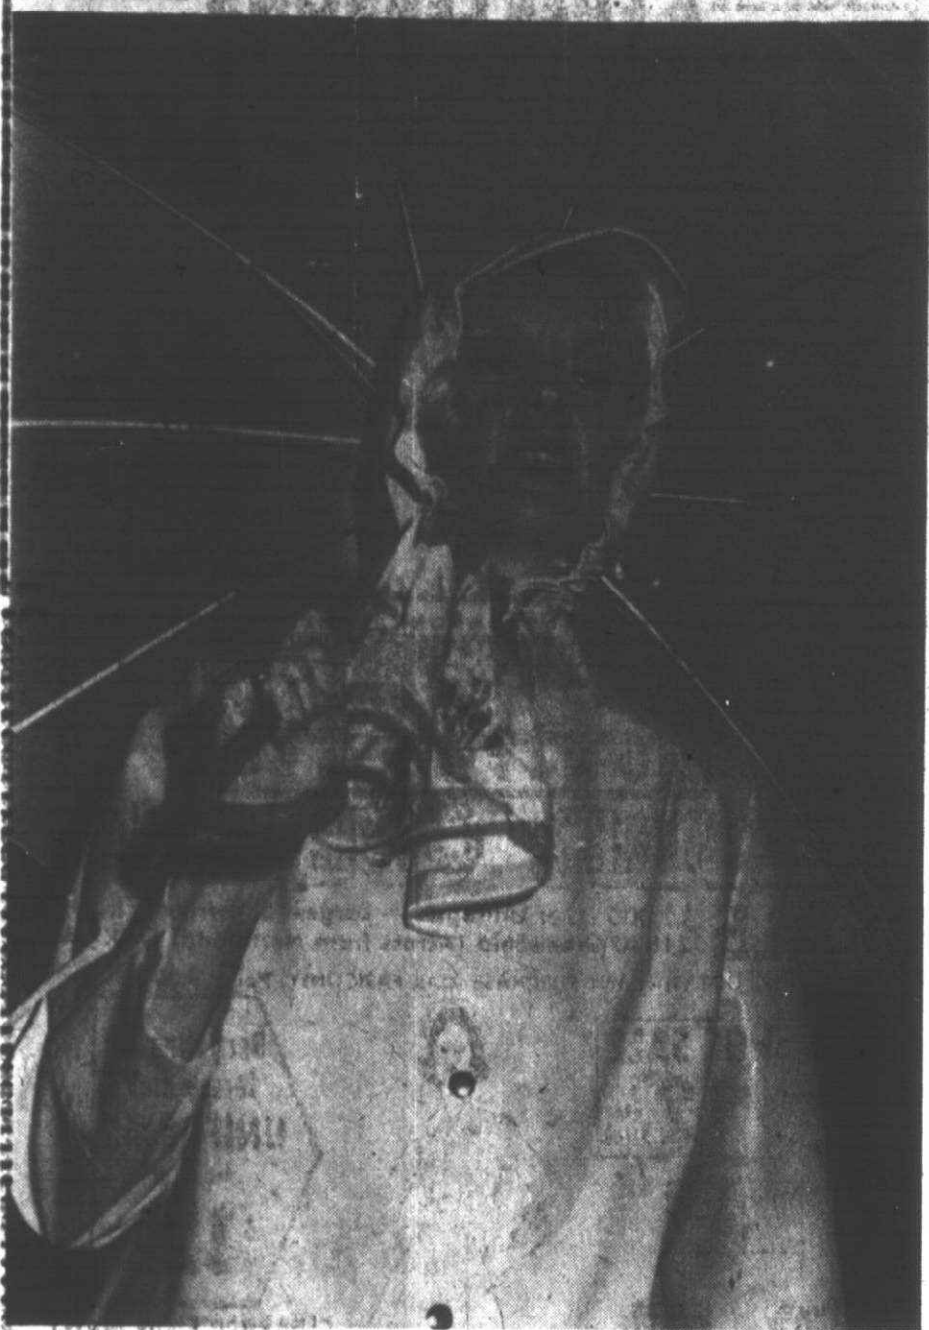

Calloway said this country's greatest contribution to the world's theatrical picture is the musical comedy.

"No one can do it with the exuberance we put into it," he said.

To prove that, he performed the "Trouble in River City" scene from "The Music Man." He also showed considerable acting talent in a scene from the drawing-room comedy "Love for Love," gave his audience a bit of Shakespeare and offered a hilarious bit of comedy involving a visit by Tennessee Williams to a PTA meeting.

Meadow Brook showed fashions just for fun

Choreographed musical numbers added flair and fun to Meadow Brook Country Club's annual spring luncheon and fashion show.

Models used skits and props as a medium for showing colorful spring and summer fashions from Crowley's Department Store, including everything from bathing suits to evening gowns.

Spectators paused when one model lost her balance during the opening number, fell off the stage and sprained her ankle. "We were glad she was not seriously hurt," said Mrs. John Macca, assistant chairperson for the event, "but it meant a whole line of clothes had to be cut from the show."

New "string" bikinis in all colors covered by flowing caftans made appearances along with separates for every occasion.

One musical-modelling number had four models in black leotards showing various accessories for different dramatic effects.

MEN'S FASHIONS were on parade as well as women's. "Hopefully our Fall fashion show will be held at night so more husbands can attend," said Mrs. Macca.

A grand finale of swirling chiffons won applause as flowered evening gowns with capes and capelet sleeves made the scene.

"It was an outstanding show—just a fun thing," said Mrs. Macca. Chairman for the spring show was Mrs. Benjamin Crabill assisted by Mrs. Richard Simonian and Mrs. Macca, all of Farmington Hills.

Study examines teachers' psychological problems

The American obsession for technical proficiency in education is leaving teachers with a sense of boredom, aloneness and irrelevance.

That's the finding of Dr. Edward Bantel, professor of education at Oakland University, who addressed the Teacher Education Council of Wayne County on "The Successful Teacher" at Madonna College recently.

"Teachers are already feeling the psychological sting of their work," Bantel said. "They feel something must be wrong with them and are asking themselves, 'Why do I feel so bad when things are so good.'"

BANTEL'S STUDY is a comparison to one completed in 1950 in which teachers rated themselves on such traits as hostility and anxiety.

According to Bantel, teachers for the past 25 years have viewed themselves as feeling significantly less hostile and angry, but their feelings of loneliness, anxiety and homelessness have increased to the astonishment of the researchers.

Bantel said the study reveals that after five years in the classroom, teachers feel directionless.

"THE CONTEXT of education today robs teachers of richness. Society wants instant results and is pressured by parents who, in their ignorance, want to push their children beyond their limitations.

"The American solution to all this is to train another specialist and pass the child along to seven or eight educators.

"Teachers are losing both their power and their innocence."

Bantel views batteries of standardized tests as an enemy of the teaching profession.

"Measurements are the most trivial aspect of education. Tests hold no validity beyond what a teacher can see, and an experienced teacher can see the range of a child's intelligence as well as any clinician.

"A student is not going to learn until he knows and trusts his teacher. As a result, students don't work to their fullest potential with a stranger."

Strict reliance on testing programs and shunting students off to specialists "is intrusively destroying the setting which belongs to the teacher."

"It's only the teacher who can protest," Bantel said. "It's only the teacher who can claim the profession with pride and say he can do something which no laymen can duplicate."

BANTEL POINTED to another study which rated teachers' performances.

"As a teaching performance is judged to be poor, the more the behavior of these kinds of teachers is stereotyped.

"As you move toward superior performances, no two teachers look alike. It's the imprint of human personality which sets the superior teacher apart from the poor teacher.

"When a teacher stops looking at himself as a person and starts seeing the three Rs instead, he's in real trouble," he said.

IN CONTRAST to the highly technical world of today's education, Bantel pointed to a teacher whom he rated as "a genius."

"Her name is Muriel Pyrah and she is a person with a unique biography. She is receiving a kind of fame she doesn't fully appreciate. But educators are interested in her because she taught children of English coal miners, who previously never went beyond an elementary level of education. Under her guidance the majority of her students went through secondary schools."

Mrs. Pyrah was the daughter of florists and had to participate in the family business at an early age. Bantel said she was keenly observant and could detect deficiencies in plant life long before they appeared to wither.

Since she had an 11th grade education, far exceeding the education of other children in the area, she was selected to become the area's teacher.

"Because these children were taught to be seen and not heard, they came to school not with speech, but with grunts.

"Mrs. Pyrah became their builder of language, vocabulary and reading skills.

"And not only did she teach these children to read, but she taught them to learn to love reading as much as she did. She taught them not only to claim words as their own but taught them to claim their lives as their own.

"By the time her students were in the third grade, their aesthetic sensitivities had exceeded even hers."

IN CONTRAST to Mrs. Pyrah's method of keenly evaluating students in her own mind, Bantel said the American system of teaching is missing the point.

"We're sinning in massive doses," he said. "Our teachers don't realize they must know themselves before they know their children for what they are—their strengths and their limitations.

"We can't depersonate education any more. We're obsessed with evaluating to the point of pathology."

Michigan bans studded tires

Studded snow tires must be off Michigan roads by April 1, the Automobile Club of Michigan reminds.

A 1973 law bans tire studs from use in the state after that date.

However, snow tires may be used after this winter if the studs are removed. You can do it yourself or have a tire dealer do it for a nominal fee.

Hot ice controversy

Star hockey player Stan Mikita and State Senator Carl Pursell say junior hockey needs drastic change

'The Battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton.'

By TOM SCHRAM
Sports Editor

The Duke of Wellington thus became history's first on-record advocate of competitive sports for the young set. And ever since the Duke uttered his immortal words about Napoleon's downfall, the value of sports for the young set and the inherent violence therein, has been a subject of constant controversy.

Earlier this year, that controversy flared in Michigan when a joint legislative committee, led by State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), was formed to study organized amateur sports and their effects on youth.

That committee held its latest hearing Friday and the star of the show was Chicago Black Hawks All-star winger, Stan Mikita.

Mikita speaks with authority on the sport which he plays. The Hawks' veteran ranks among the top 10 players in career scoring, and led the National Hockey League in that category in 1967 and 1968.

BUT THE OTHER side of Mikita, the side for which he has been twice awarded the Lady Bing Memorial Trophy for sportsmanship, was more in presence at the session held in downtown Detroit's Ponchartrain Hotel.

Mikita is of the opinion, as is Pursell, that there is too much emphasis on winning in junior hockey programs. He also believes that the violence which too often surfaces in youth programs is detrimental to the sport.

"The same things that are wrong with junior hockey programs all over the country are what is wrong with them in Michigan," Mikita said.

Mikita spoke from personal experience about the problems with the youth programs.

"When my son was six years old he was in a junior program. One day he came home from practice and told me that he didn't want to get spanked, but that he didn't want to play hockey anymore. The reason was that he couldn't perform the things that the coach wanted him to and he would get yelled at. And that's just the point. Kids up to 12, by and large, cannot grasp what their coaches tell them about hockey," he said.

"This is what we are running up against. Kids simply cannot do the things which are being demanded of them."

Mikita's solution to the problem is, by his own admission, only a partial one.

"One of the things which we have to do is to let the kids practice more—set them up in controlled scrimmages and take the emphasis off standings and statistics. We have to let them just go out there and chase the puck and have fun," he said.

Mikita said that he sees the same trends which he dislikes at the amateur level taking over in the professional ranks.

"Playmaking is giving way to intimidation but I don't believe that intimidation has worked that well," he said.

But Mikita, who spent more than a few hours in the penalty box when he broke into the league because of what he describes as a "hit first and ask questions later" philosophy, points out a distinct difference between hockey at his level.

"WE'RE OUT THERE to make a living, not to have fun," he said. Mikita advocates the European system of hockey education where a player is not allowed to play competitively until the age of 12, working in his younger days on fundamentals, skating and scrimmaging instead of actual playing.

"We're not going in the right direction in this country. We're trying to teach kids too much, too soon."

Pursell advocates much the same views but his committee has been criticized for an attempt to "legislate morality" by those who oppose stricter controls on the game.

"We are not, as yet, trying to legislate anything. There has been no legislation recommended and no bills introduced," Pursell said.

However, the senator did admit that he was receiving negative reactions from several groups already.

"It's no secret that several groups have gone on record opposing the study. I can only hope that they will look at our findings when we have finished the study and view them objectively," he said.

"They've taken up a study at the University of Windsor and applied to certain elements of Canadian hockey already to make the game safer and more enjoyable for the kids. I hope that we might be able to affect similar changes here," Pursell said.

Local ice authorities disagree

Officials of two local hockey organizations reacted with surprise Friday after hearing of statements by Chicago Black Hawks star Stan Mikita regarding the state of amateur hockey in Michigan.

At a Friday morning hearing with the joint house committee led by Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) which is currently reviewing youth sports activities in general and hockey in specific, Mikita spoke out against violence and over-emphasis on winning in youth hockey programs.

MIKITA SAID he advocates the de-emphasization of league play and movement toward "controlled scrimmages" and the "European system" in which no competitive hockey is played until age 12.

"I find it hard to believe that Mikita said those things," said Don Peters, director of the Livonia Hockey Association.

Peters did not totally disagree with all of Mikita's statements, indicating that Mikita's claim that youngsters are not totally aware of the finer aspects of the game might be valid.

"As far as the analytical sense goes, it's debatable and it varies from individual to individual as to what he grasps about the game," Peters said.

Peters said that he did not think it was practical to switch from the game situation to controlled scrimmage.

"The practicality of the game of hockey prohibits this kind of move. Ice time is simply too valuable and to maintain the interest of the parents, coaches and players, you have to make a game situation of it," he said.

PETERS SAID HE did not see the physical aspects of the contact sport as being detrimental to young players.

"On the contrary, the amount of physical contact involved in hockey is no more than what would be received if the kids were roughhousing in the sandbox. I think this is helpful to their development."

Peters had identical feelings about the value of competitive sports. "I personally think competitive sports are good for young people. They help them develop as individuals."

Peters said the philosophy of the Livonia Hockey Association was "definately not win-at-all-cost" and took a swipe at the entire committee which is studying the amateur sport system.

"Personally, I think there are more important things for the Legislature to be concerned about. The governing bodies of amateur sports do a fine job controlling themselves. They don't need a watchdog."

GINO D'AMBROSIO, sports director for Little Caesar's, which sponsors several teams off all age groups throughout the suburbs, said at most levels there is little or no emphasis on winning.

"The Mite games (ages 7-10) are the funniest things in the world to watch. There's no emphasis on winning at all."

"Our philosophy is that we'd like to win, of course, but it's not the end of the world if we don't. My God, they're only kids."

D'Ambrosio further stated that he saw no real problems with injuries in hockey.

"I coached high school football in the Detroit area for 20 years. Injuries are far more frequent and more serious in football than in hockey. In football, until they blow that whistle, it's legal mayhem," he said.

According to D'Ambrosio, the "long schedule" involving up to 90 games among youngsters on travel teams is commonly misunderstood.

"The most important thing about that is the games are running time. If they were broken down into games where the clock was stopped, the schedule would be closer to 25 games in terms of ice time."

Nevertheless, both D'Ambrosio and Peters said they will take any suggestions made by the committee into full consideration.

"We have nothing to hide," D'Ambrosio said.

Three local schools take girls' volleyball titles

The girls volleyball season concluded last week and three area teams came up with league championships in exciting finishes.

Livonia Churchill and Plymouth Canton split the Western 6 title with identical 6-2 records while the Northwest Suburban race went right down to the final seconds of the season before Livonia Franklin came away with its third consecutive league crown.

In the Western 6, Plymouth Canton rebounded from an initial 1-2 record to take its final five matches of the season and a share of the title. The Chiefs beat both co-champion Churchill and runner-up Walled Lake Western in two of their last three games of season to highlight their fast finish.

Churchill, led by all-league star Beth Malik, eliminated Walled Lake Western in its next-to-last game and then took a clutch victory over Northville to wrap up its portion of the crown.

BESIDES MALIK, the Chargers placed two other girls on the All-League team. Juniors Mary Birmingham and Mary Vomastek took second team honors for the Chargers. Malik made first team.

Canton had two players named to the first team in seniors Chris Boyd and Karen Reid. Seniors Lisa Williams made the second team for the chief.

"It was one of the most exciting matches of the year," said Franklin coach Diane Corbit about her final match of the season versus Thurston.

Faced with the prospect of a three-way tie if they lost, the Chargers had to rally repeatedly to take their third straight league title.

First Churchill lost the initial game of the match 15-10.

Then, after winning the second 15-13, they found themselves down 0-7 with time running out. Time did expire but not until Churchill had notched things at 10-10. The Chargers then gained the serve in the overtime and took two straight points to win the title.

"We've been a come-from-behind team all year, but that was a little ridiculous," Corbit said.

THE CHURCHILL victory put the Chargers alone in first place with a 7-1 record while John Glenn placed second with a 6-2 mark and Thurston dropped to third at 5-3.

The Northwest Suburban League All-League team took in individuals from throughout the area.

Franklin led the way with three players on the first team: seniors Karel Pennington and Bev Stevens and junior Karen Dzikowski.

Westland John Glenn landed two girls on the first team: Kathy McGuire and Robbin Soave; and one on the second, Diann Gorham.

Thurston placed Judy Mahmeister on the first team and Lisa Collins Sue Benedict and Jan Horsley on the second squad.

Seniors Debbie Kiessel and Cheryl Salimen took second team honors for Garden City East.

ALL LEAGUE FIRST TEAM spiker Beth Malik led Livonia Churchill to a share of the Western Six girls' volleyball crown this year.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

For the first time in Michigan racing history there will be racing on Good Friday. The Detroit Racing Association plans a nine race program Friday at the Detroit Race Course... and of course everyone is wondering just how good the attendance will be.

The Legislature gave permission to the thoroughbreds to race on Good Friday and Easter Sunday, if the management wishes, in amending the racing act a year ago to approve Sunday racing.

It was done in sort of a backhanded manner. The amendment provides that there will be no Sunday or Good Friday racing at the harness tracks. Thus the inference is that such programs are approved for the runners.

We have no quarrel with the racing act in regard to Sundays at the running tracks, even though we did say some time back that it was a direct discrimination for the harness operations, but Good Friday is something else.

How can the Legislature say the runners can go in the afternoon on Good Friday but the harness tracks have to be dark... races will be staged in Windsor that night.

It is our feeling the amended racing act should be tested for its legality. There definitely is discrimination against harness racing and it should be corrected.

THE DRA IS OFF to a great start and management hopes the impetus continues once the season goes into the second part of the split season. Right now wagering is ahead of the disastrous meeting of last year with the past week one of the best in the winter in several seasons.

Purses have been boosted an average of $200 and that should make the horsemen happy. However, there's an old saying that a meet is no better than the horses. Thus it might be a tip for the horsemen to get better steeds and boost the wagering which in turn will make for better purses.

In his decision upholding Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley's right to allot racing dates, Circuit Court Judge Thomas Foley opined that instead of harness horsemen complaining about not getting starts in the summer, they should think of getting better horses.

In discussing his ruling, Judge Foley indicated he thought that if the Michigan horsemen had better stock they wouldn't have to worry about the back-to-back dates allotted Hazel Park and Wolverine Raceways in the summer.

"I don't know that much about racing," he said, "but I do know if you have good horses there'll always be races they can enter. But if one has a flock of cheap horses, then he better go where horses of the same class are racing. Then there will be starts."

Judge Foley said he couldn't buy the remarks of Michigan horsemen who testified at the long trial which found Northville Downs contesting the right of the commissioner to take away its summer dates.

During the trial the horsemen told the court back-to-back racing at Hazel Park and Wolverine would just about put them out of business because they couldn't possibly compete with the better stables coming in.

If a judge, who knows little about racing, can come up with this kind of a conclusion, then it's about time for the Michigan horsemen to take heed and begin building better and stronger stables.

YOUTHFUL CHARLIE Smith, who has spent most of the winter in the hospital with operations on both legs, is back in action at Northville Downs. He made his first start after the long layoff on Tuesday and wound up second.

But it was a different tale on Wednesday when he brought his horse out of the pack on the final turn and won handily. Charlie was filling in for Gordon who was sitting out a three-day suspension.

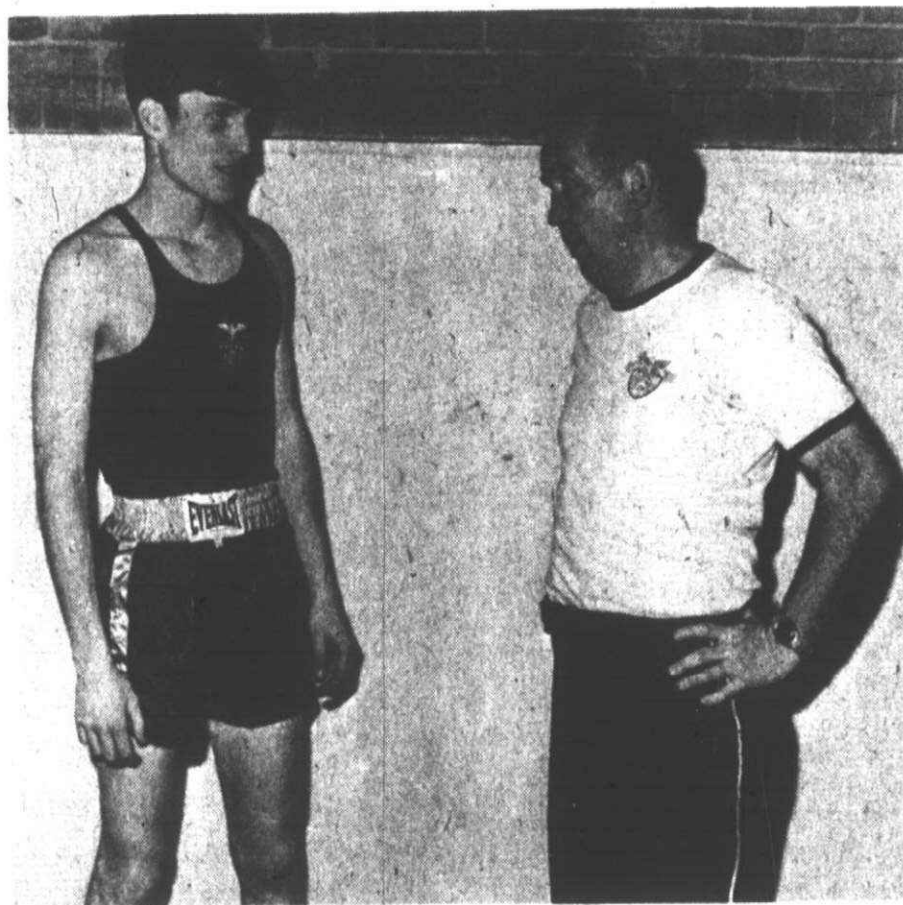

The management of the Northville Fair has announced the dates for the Wolverine Futurity three year old colt and filly paces and trots which have a value of more than $100,000.

John Carlo, executive director of Northville Downs, was the successful bidder for the stakes at the Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association meeting in January in Lansing.

The program as set for the fair calls for the three-year-old filly pace and the colt trot on July 26 under the lights. The three-year-old filly trot and colt pace will be held on the afternoon of July 27.

The addition of the futurities to the fair program should make it one of the most important of mid-summer.

The two colt events will give fans a chance to see the state's top sophomore trotters and pacers. Last year

KEVIN HIGGINS and trainer Herb Kroeten.

Cadet Higgins moves up in NYC Golden Gloves

West Point Cadet Kevin Higgins has punched his way to another step along the trail toward a New York City region novice Golden Gloves title, gaining a unanimous decision in his 147-pound bout in New York's Felt Forum.

Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Higgins, 20204 Woodworth, Redford Township, lost the first round of his semifinal bout to Steve Michalerya, representing the Huntington Recreation Center of New York City.

But the West Pointer came on strong in the final two rounds to gain the decision before 3,700 fans. Both fighters received standing ovations after the fight.

Higgins, who is trained at the military academy by veteran boxing instructor and 1944 Gloves champion Herb Kroeten, now advances to the finals of his division against Kevin Rooney who represents the New York Police Athletic League. This bout will be in New York City's Madison Square Garden.

While a resident of Redford Township, Higgins attended St. Agatha High School where he co-captained the football team and also lettered in track and basketball.

the futurities were featured by the appearance of Malcolm J, who wound up the season as one of the best three-year-olds developed in Michigan in a long time... perhaps as far back as the days when the great Rusty Range was thrilling fans with his spectacular come-from-behind victories.

The American Bowling Congress revived the old argument over the pro or amateur status of a bowler this week when it declared that Bob Hart, of the Stroh team, was no longer eligible to compete in the US trials to select the American team for the world championships next year.

The ruling was based on the fact that Hart is employed by the Stroh Brewery and, therefore, is paid for bowling. Bob had qualified by reason of his showing last year with the Goebel team in the ABC tournament at Indianapolis. At the close of the season he joined Stroh to become what the brewery officials call a good-will ambassador.

The ruling this week came as a shock in that the Stroh team bowls in the All-Star Classic and the Michigan Open with other ABC bowlers and nothing ever has been said—officially.

Now the argument will wax furious until a much clearer statement is made by the ABC officials.

Not many years ago the ABC ruled that the "alley man"—the fellow who took care of the lanes—was a pro and that not more than one could be a member of any team. Even the proprietor was designated as an alley man and, therefore, ineligible to bowl on a team he sponsored.

When that was cleared up the argument turned to bowling for prize money. It was claimed that a real amateur was not permitted to bowl for cash—even though some of the money was part of his bowling fee.

That argument simmered down and all was quiet until this week when Hart was ruled ineligible. Now, there's no telling just how far the present squabble will go.

THE PINS SURE were flying last Thursday night at Wonderland lanes and some of the scores are almost unbelievable.

For instance, the 20-team league (100 bowlers) averaged 201 for the night while banging out four 700 series, and 50 600 or better.

Ron Fournier, captain of the Farris Bros. team, helped it hit 3,333 on games of 1,126, 1,126 and 1,081, for one of its best nights. The real firing came when Jack Carrier rolled a 794 and barely missed a perfect game.

C'ville winners

Clarenceville High School announced most valuable player awards in several sports at its annual winter sports banquet March 19.

Winners were: Debbie Bame, cheerleading; Roll and Frenchette, boys gymnastics; George Nikorak, swimming; Mitch Lentovich, wrestling; Marta Scharrenberg, girls gymnastics; Kathy Higgins, volleyball and George Scholes, basketball.

He opened with a 248 and then followed with a 278 and closed with 268.

Next to him came Gordon Cantrell with a 713 that included an opening game of 277, while John Woderski broke the 700 barrier with a 704 due mainly to a closing effort of 257, and Jerry Halsted contributed games of 235, 236 and 219 for an even 700.

It was the biggest night of the year at Wonderland where there have been many big ones.

ROSEMARY PRUIETER, the Plymouth girl who competes in the prestigious Ladies Major League at Pine Tree Bowl, joined the select company last Wednesday night when she was one of eight girls who bettered double century figures with a 604 series.

Kathy Springs paced the group with a 666 and was followed by Helen Weston with 654. Margaret Wuerth took third with 635 that included a 266 game. Others in order were Ann Setlark 627, Carol Schemers 624, Rosemary at 604 and Jerry Ritter who tied with Penny Behn at 603.

HIGH SCORING comes in the most unusual places. Last week, as an example, Charlie Staggs, bowling in a mixed league at Westland Bowl, fashioned games of 245, 204 and 221 for 670 to pace the field.

Not to be outdone, Mike Ropla turned in a 635 series to lead the Churchill High School squad, while Laurie Uhl, the secretary, had a 530 on games of 174, 174 and 182.

THE SOUTHPAWS are having a great time in the monthly events sponsored by the Michigan Majors Association.

Last month Dick Beattie, one of the top left handers of the area, took top prize and this month, Dan Ammett of Dearborn, another who throws from the port side, walked off with the jackpot at Strike'N Spare Lanes in Birmingham.

A NEWCOMER, Chris Greene took top honors in the Livonia Ladies Classic when she rolled a 470-171-641 series that included a single of 174-57-231. Other single game winners were Carolyn Niederkorn with a 184-37-221 and Lois Merriman with 212-25-237.

CAROL WIDLAK added her name to the select group that has converted the "impossible" 4-6-7-10 split this season.

Bowling in the Toast and Coffee League at Merri-Bowl where she carries a 156 average, she left up the "double pinochle" in the sixth frame.

"I shot at the 4-7," she explained, "then the No. 4 went over and toppled the No. 10 forward to upset the No. 6 for a 194 game." Her other games were 144 and 157 for a 495 series.

People who buy and people who sell get together in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers

Buyers and sellers are "strange" people. Strange to each other, that is. People with lots of different needs and wants, people who need to get together. They need to get together in the quickest, least expensive and most effective way possible—the Observer & Eccentric Want Ads.

Say you need a buyer for a bunch of baby basset hounds, or a really good home for a litter of antiques...How do you meet those unknown admirers with an eye for your special goods? How do you keep track of sellers with garage sales, and owners of autos and pets to trade? It's easy -- when you know where buyers and sellers get together best—the Observer & Eccentric Classifieds.

It's easy to get double buying and selling results, too. Double-Action Ads bring people together from all over Wayne and Oakland Counties. These suburban communities include: Birmingham, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Rochester, Avon Twp., Southfield and Troy in Oakland County; Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth, Plymouth Twp., Canton Twp., Redford Twp., and Westland in Wayne County. Smart buyers and sellers place a Double Action Family Want Ad (non business) of 15 words or less in two consecutive issues, with no changes in copy and no cancellations -- and they pay only $6. That's a savings of $2.00 off the regular cost of placing an ad in two issues.

When you have something to sell...when you have something to buy...you've got a lot in common in the Observer & Eccentric Classified Want Ads.

BACK TO BASICS

IT'S BACK TO BASICS at Meijer. Keep healthy and within your budget with the good common sense of planning around the basic four - Milk, Meat, Vegetables/Fruit, and Bread/Cereal.

NATIONAL NUTRITION WEEK was March 2-8. The slogan of the week was "Foods Fads Fool". As attention focused on food fad myths, the importance of a good basic diet emerged - rather than a reliance on miracle foods or miracle vitamins.

THE BASIC FOUR can be a guide to good eating. No food fad can compete with the Basic Four with which we need to reacquaint ourselves.

EACH DAY, food should be selected from each of these groups.

MILK GROUP - Milk, cheese, ice cream, and other milk products.

MEAT GROUP - Meats, fish, poultry, eggs, and cheese.

VEGETABLE/FRUIT - dark green and yellow vegetables, tomatoes, and citrus fruits.

BREAD/CEREAL - Enriched or whole grain.

THE BASIC FOUR can be your guide to good eating. More or less of each, are needed for your growth, activity level and desired weight.

DIETING... cut down - rather than cut out. Calories count. 500 calories extra a day can add a pound a week to your weight. Cut down on the size of servings. While it helps to cut down on extra sweets and fats, you do not need to go without certain foods altogether. Instead, have a thinner slice of cake or plain ice cream rather than a sundae.

SKIPPING MEALS is dangerous. And breakfast still is an important meal. Breakfast helps you through the morning with more energy and less snacking. Skipping a meal can get you in trouble with high calorie snacks substituting for a nutritious meal.

DRY CLEANING

MEIJER PROVIDES dry cleaning service at the Courtesy Desk in most Thrifty Acres. This is just one more service you can take advantage of when you shop at Meijer.

NOW IS THE TIME to get those winter items cleaned and packed away for summer. You can bring in a little or a lot each week as part of your shopping trip and get it cleaned at Why Pay More Prices. Big and little orders are welcome. All at "why pay more" prices.

SOME THRIFTY ACRES offer laundering and or shoe repair services. On your next shopping trip, stop by the Courtesy Desk and check the other laundry related services which are available at the Thrifty Acres where you shop.

DRY CLEANING SERVICES are available at all Thrifty Acres except at the Holland store, and the Patterson store, (Kalamazoo); and are also available in the Division Avenue and Rogers Park Supermarkets.
